

Foul Play Suspected In Death Of Veteran At Bay St. Armory

Police Investigate Tragedy At Scots' Reunion Party

Evidence that Frederick C. Nex, 44-year-old Canadian Scottish overseas war veteran, was struck a blow and knocked down in a fight at Bay Street Armory Saturday prior to his death, has been gathered by city detectives.

Saturday night and Sunday detectives interviewed several persons in connection with the case.

Results of an autopsy to determine the cause of death, ordered by Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, should be announced today.

A waiter in restaurants since he first started work, Nex was one of the 300 with the Scottish, but was transferred to another unit in England. He saw service in the Italian campaign.

He was employed at the Melrose Cafe, Yates Street, and lived at the York Hotel.

Nex was found unconscious by Scottish veterans at their reunion party on a bench located on the north side of the armory just west of the main entrance.

R. F. Marshall, 216 Cook Street, called the police and Constables Alex Nichol and Jack Perry attended and took Nex to Jubilee Hospital.

Dr. Jack Zimmerman, interne, pronounced life extinct.

There was a small cut over the right eye, which police believe may have been sustained in trying to avert a fight between two other persons.

Police have the name of a person who is alleged to have struck Nex.

Prisoner Puts End To Life In Cell

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 75-year-old Victoria man, awaiting trial for the murder of his 75-year-old wife, hanged himself in his Oakalla Prison farm cell today, officials reported.

He was F. E. Smith, awaiting trial at the fall assizes for the slaying of his wife, Sarah Elizabeth Smith, whose body was found in the couple's Oak Bay home in June. She had been strangled. The Smiths had been married 50 years.

Prison officials said Smith apparently hanged himself today with a towel. After the June slaying, Smith had slashed his wrists with a razor blade and was in hospital several days before being transferred to the prison.

FREDERICK C. NEX found dead in Armory.

Britain Asks Common Front On Red China

LONDON (UP)—Great Britain is inclined to recognize the new Communist government in China, but will hold off if the United States objects, informed sources reported today.

The government was reported intending to present a common front with the United States on the Chinese question in order to deny Communist propaganda any chance of playing one western country against another.

The British intentions were sketched shortly after a Foreign Office spokesman had said the government would consult with all Commonwealth and Atlantic Pact countries before making its decision.

An External Affairs Department spokesman in Ottawa said there was no immediate prospect of Canada extending recognition, but that the matter was being considered by the cabinet. Ambassador T. C. Davis was expected to reach San Francisco Oct. 13, returning to Ottawa for consultations with the department and cabinet.

Policy Of Watchful Waiting

Informed sources emphasized that Britain would not act alone. They said the government's policy now could be described as one of watchful waiting.

"Any diplomatic decision regarding China will be made in close consultation and collaboration not only with the Commonwealth members and Atlantic pact powers, but with other interested countries," officials said.

They would not elaborate further, but it was understood Siam, Burma and Indo-China would be included in forthcoming discussions which officials said must await official notes from the new China government.

The government still was accredited to the Chinese Nationalist regime. If the Communists insisted on withdrawal of recognition from the Nationalists, it would raise a question of international diplomacy which must be discussed with all other interested powers, officials said.

Two Manitobans Die As Auto Jumps Road

WINNIPEG (CP)—Donald Cleaver, 20, and Irene Nightingale, 20, both of Winnipeg, were instantly killed when a motorcar carrying six young people plunged off a highway at nearby Middlechurch Sunday. Four other passengers in the car were shaken up but not injured seriously.

R.C.M.P. said two young people killed were riding in the front seat of the small English car, and the other four were riding in the back seat.

British Foreign Minister Sees Canada's Premier

OTTAWA (BUP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin scheduled conferences with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and other government officials today, but said his four-day visit to Canada was mainly social.

It was expected that Bevin, who was accompanied by his secretary and is a house guest of British High Commissioner Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, would discuss the part Canada planned to play in helping Britain out of its dollar crisis.

He said when he arrived by train Sunday, however, he was here "to see all my friends on a visit I have promised for so long a time," and that his visit was a symbol of the close ties existing between Britain and the Dominion.

GREETED BY EX-PREMIER

Among those he was to see was "my dear old friend," former Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Bevin came here from the United Nations' Assembly session at Lake Success. He visited St. Laurent this morning and was to be guest of honor tonight at a dinner arranged by the federal government.

He said he would meet reporters at a press conference Tuesday, make a radio address later in the day, and go to Montreal before returning to the U.N. Wednesday night.

Hint Washington May Step Into Steel, Coal Disputes

Pittsburgh (AP)—One-fifth of John L. Lewis' coal miners went back into the pits today, but nearly 1,000,000 other steel and coal workers remained on strike for pension benefits.

There are hints the federal government may step into the dispute—but officially no one is talking.

Some 800,000 anthracite diggers ended two weeks of idleness in eastern Pennsylvania. And 22,000 soft coal diggers trooped back to mines in western states.

Both groups acted in response to a return-to-work instructions from Lewis, who said further inaction "is not now vital to the pending wage negotiations."

The return of the anthracite diggers is a morale booster for householders since virtually all of the coal mined by the returning workers is used for home heating.

Coal-using industry, however, must continue to bite into a 46-day supply of bituminous stockpiled above ground. There was no hint of a return-to-work order for the 350,000 men who mine most of the industrial coal in the United States.

How much steel is available? About enough for four to six weeks.

The double-barreled steel-coal strike left idle 513,000 C.I.O. steelworkers and nearly 400,000 soft coal miners—made big dents in the country's economy.

Hat Off Brofchie Possibly Belford's

A fawn fedora hat, similar to the one Thomas Belford was believed wearing when last seen, was found Sunday night floating on the sea about half a mile off Brofchie Ledge.

The discovery was made by Victor Smith, 1209 June Street, city police said.

Discovery of the hat adds strength to evidence that Belford, missing since last Tuesday, drowned. Saturday it was reported that an ear, identified as one from the boat Belford was using, had been picked up on the beach.

Canada To Feel Strikes

OTTAWA (CP)—The shadow of a United States steel strike hung darkly over Canadian industries today.

With Canada importing one-third of her steel from U.S. mills, a prolonged strike threatened to have repercussions in almost every aspect of the Dominion's industry.

Adding to the worry of government and industrial officials was uncertainty as to what form of support Canada's 50,000 steel workers might give their U.S. fellow union members.

Government officials indicated that if the strike of 528,000 United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) continues beyond another week or 10 days, it might be necessary to reinstitute wartime controls on distribution of steel.

Officials said there is enough steel on hand in Canada so that effects of the U.S. strike will not be felt in the Dominion for at least a week. If it were to continue, remaining supplies of steel would have to be channelled to such vital industries as construction and public utility development.

Homemade Bomb Explosion Hurts One Of Inventors

Playing scientist was great fun for two young Victoria brothers until one of their experiments blew up, severely injuring one of them.

Ian Mowat, 16, and his brother Andrew, 12, 1330 Finlayson Street, were making "bombs" in the basement of their home Sunday evening from an assortment of chemicals.

They were mixing sulphur, charcoal and potassium chloride and using this to stuff in copper tubes for exploding later.

All went well until one of the tubes exploded prematurely, causing severe injuries to Ian's left hand, left arm and left eye.

He was rushed to hospital by a neighbor, Les Painter, 1340 Finlayson Street.

California Train Hits Bus; 17 Out Of 22 Occupants Killed

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP)—A racing passenger train ripped into a United States Air Force bus at a crossing Sunday night, killing 17 of the 22 occupants.

Eleven of the dead were military or civilian personnel from the March Air Base; five were members of the Ontario Hostess Club—a service organization—the other was the chaplain, Mrs. Ruby McLaughlin, 45, mother of one of the girl victims, Juanita McLaughlin, 18.

Chief Coroner Edward P. Doyle said only five, including twin sisters sitting in different parts of the bus, escaped alive.

The men from the Air Base and their girl companions were home-bound from a day at the beach. No one in the bus escaped unhurt but no one was injured aboard the train, the Union Pacific's Pony Express eastbound to Chicago.

The railroad said the train was traveling at 70 miles an hour. Engineer Al Hall said "I didn't see a thing before the crash."

'The Better Way?'

So far as Willie Patrick is concerned, "The Better Way" is to stay awake at the wheel. Patrick, a U.S. Navy chief petty officer, dozed off while driving through Los Angeles and awakened to find himself in the middle of a cemetery advertisement on a splintered billboard. Aside from a few cuts, Patrick suffered mostly from a strong case of jitters.

Texas Coast In Path Of 90-Mile Hurricane

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UP)—The Texas Gulf coast battered down today as a hurricane with 90-mile-an-hour winds hurled giant tides against the shores and drove shipping to cover.

The hurricane centred 134 miles southeast of Brownsville, Tex., at 7:45 a.m. E.S.T. Gale winds were expected to strike by noon and to grow to hurricane force late today from here to Galveston, according to a special weather bureau bulletin.

Tides were expected to become "dangerously high" along the Texas and Louisiana coasts this afternoon and tonight, the weather bureau said.

Residents of lowland areas were warned to flee from their homes before dangerous tides should sweep inland this afternoon or tonight.

The hurricane, the second to threaten the area within 10 days, caused heavy seas over most of the northern Gulf of Mexico.

Red and black hurricane warning flags flew in the danger area from here east to Galveston. And the weather bureau's latest advisory message warned that winds would increase to gale force by noon.

The tide began rising abnormally after midnight last night. The Port Isabel Coast Guard station, northeast of Brownsville, reported a distress call via short-wave radio from a Sun Oil Company employee stationed at lonely El Toro Island, a sandspit 65 miles north of the port town.

A Coast Guard ship put out immediately into the choppy seas to bring the marooned islander to the mainland.

"Any kind of a hurricane would completely cover that island in no time," a Coast Guardsman said.

The approaching storm, which Sunday sank six small fishing boats near Ciudad del Carmen, Mexico, was accompanied by gale winds fanning out 200 miles to the east and north from its centre.

British Frigate Stands By U.S. Ships Held By Chinese

SANGHAI (AP)—Shipping officials received word today two seized U.S. freighters have been taken to a Chinese naval base by armed Nationalist patrol vessels.

The message (later confirmed by official quarters in Canton) said the Isbrandtsen Line's Flying Independent and Flying Clipper had been escorted to Chushan in the archipelago south of Communist-held Shanghai—a major target of the Nationalist blockade.

Information here is that the Nationalists confiscated cargoes of blockade runners previously taken to Chushan.

The Flying Independent's captain had radioed earlier that the British armed frigate St. Bride's Bay was standing by, within blinker-contact range and ready to give aid in case of extreme emergency. However, Britain and the United States do not recognize the blockade. The U.S. navy has refused to interfere.

The two ships were halted last Thursday at the mouth of the Yangtze River. They were outbanded from Shanghai. Aboard are 125 Korean refugees, 15 British, U.S. and other European passengers, and 10,000 tons of cargo. The Flying Independent's skipper had reported his situation was critical due to stormy weather and food shortage.

(In Seoul, U.S. officials of the Economic Co-Operation Administration said the ships are carrying $1,659,000 of aid goods for Korea. The cargo includes three Stinson planes to inaugurate Korea's first postwar commercial airline.)

(In Canton, a government source said the ships were moved because Chushan provides a safer anchorage from storms than the mouth of the Yangtze River.)

Great Loss

HELSINKI (Reuters)—The fire which last week gutted the timber yards at Kerri, in northwest Finland, destroyed one-fifth of the country's annual timber exports, officials said today.

Weather Forecast

Cloudy, becoming overcast with intermittent rain this afternoon; scattered showers tonight. Light winds, increasing to southerly 15 tonight. Tuesday: Cloudy and cooler with southwest winds 20 during morning. Low tonight, 50; high Tuesday, 60.

Inquest To Probe Death Of Veteran

Tito Charges Soviets With War Threats

BELGRADE (UP)—Marshal Tito has accused the Soviet Union of threatening Yugoslavia with war and served notice the Yugoslav army is prepared to defend the country "until the last breath," it was disclosed tonight.

The report of a speech to 600 general officers and high-ranking officials at a lunch "sometime and somewhere in Yugoslavia" was released by the information office.

"No one has the right, regardless of who he may be," Tito declared, "to threaten such a country (Yugoslavia) with war simply because the people of that country do not want to bear silently all kinds of insults and slanders but want to defend themselves with true facts."

At the same time Tito said the former Hungarian foreign minister Laszlo Rajk, who was sentenced to death in Budapest for alleged spying on behalf of Yugoslavia, had been taken to Moscow after his arrest to be prepared for his trial.

Chiang Breaks With Soviet

CANTON (Reuter)—The Chinese Nationalist government decided at a cabinet meeting today to sever relations with Russia.

The Soviet Union announced Sunday night its recognition of the Communist government of China and said Russian diplomatic representatives in Canton would be withdrawn.

Foreign Minister George Yeh told the cabinet meeting that Russia will probably propose that seats in the United Nations should be allocated to the Chinese Communists instead of Nationalists.

He added he thought this proposal would not be accepted by the United Nations.

Communist China's Premier is Chou En-lai, above.

Britain To Consult With Allies On Chinese Reds

LONDON (UP)—Great Britain is inclined to recognize the new Communist government in China, but will hold off if the United States objects, informed sources reported today.

The government was reported intending to present a common front with the United States on the Chinese question in order to deny Communist propaganda any chance of playing one western country against another.

The British intentions were sketched shortly after a Foreign Office spokesman had said the government would consult with all Commonwealth and Atlantic Pact countries before making its decision.

An External Affairs Department spokesman in Ottawa said there was no immediate prospect of Canada extending recognition, but that the matter was being considered by the cabinet.

Embassador T. C. Davis was expected to reach San Francisco Oct. 13, returning to Ottawa for consultations with the department and cabinet.

Argentina Devalues Peso; Leads South America

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina cheapened her money today—the first South American country to join the recent devaluation parade.

The devaluation of the peso in relation to the U.S. dollar was 6 per cent—the most drastic any country has made. The peso, previously worth about 20 U.S. cents, was cut down to 11 cents. But the devaluation was surrounded with qualifications, so that this "free market" rate will apply to tourists more than to exports.

For tourists and for certain prices, the U.S. dollars will ring 84.6 per cent more pesos than it did before.

The new rate was fixed at nine pesos to the dollar, compared with the old rate of 4.75. The pound rate went from 19.37 to 25.200.

MEAT CONTRACTS

LONDON (Reuter)—Authoritative sources in London said tonight that the announcement of a rate of 9.40 Argentine pesos to the pound sterling for Argentine meat exports will not of itself make any difference to the price Britain now is paying for meat.

It was stated the price for meat now being imported by Britain was agreed in sterling at 97.536 sterling a long ton.

That price will hold good until the end of the year, these sources said.

Experiment Goes Boom!... Boy In Hospital

Boy Severely Injured When 'Bomb' Explodes

Playing scientist was great fun for two young Victoria brothers until one of their experiments blew up, severely injuring one of them.

Both are considered by police to have been lucky to escape serious and even fatal injuries.

Ian Mowat, 16, and his brother Andrew, 12, 1330 Finlayson Street, were making "bombs" in the basement of their home Sunday evening from an assortment of chemicals.

They were mixing sulphur, charcoal and potassium chloride and using this to stuff in copper tubes for exploding later. All went well until one of the tubes exploded prematurely, causing severe injuries to Ian's left hand, left arm and left eye.

Andrew quickly got out of range of the explosion. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mowat, they are pupils at Quadra Street School.

Ian was rushed to hospital by a neighbor, Les Painter, 1340 Finlayson Street.

Campaign To Raise $150,000 Launched

As the banner on the City Hall clock says, it's "Time to Give."

Early this morning, a small army of volunteer canvassers set out on their rounds to collect from fellow citizens donations for the Community Chest. They will stay on the job until Oct. 22 or till such time as the campaign reaches its $150,000 objective.

This amount is needed to keep in operation next year each of the 20 charitable organizations which the chest embraces.

Work done by these agencies covers the entire field of social service from the placing of unwanted children in proper family homes to the rehabilitating of ex-convicts anxious to become respectable citizens.

Such work is done by no other public institutions or departments of government.

Decision as to whether or not this work will continue lies with the general public.

"Give, and give generously," campaign officials ask.

Tahiti Tourists Must Spend $250 A Month

Tahiti, island of romance and beauty. It may be that, but three B.C. adventurers returning home from a 20,000-mile voyage in the South Pacific reported the famed island also is expensive.

According to them, Tahiti has a regulation which requires tourists to spend at least $250 a month while there, and has informers to make sure they do.

(See "Three B.C. Men Home," page 20.)

Hint Truman May Act In Two Major Strikes

Pittsburgh (AP)—One-fifth of John L. Lewis' coal miners went back into the pits today, but nearly 1,000,000 other steel and coal workers remained on strike for pension benefits.

There are hints the federal government may step into the dispute—but officially no one is talking.

Information here is that the Nationalists confiscated cargoes of blockade runners previously taken to Chushan.

Ship Freed

HONGKONG (Reuter)—The British blockade-running ship Leong Bee arrived here tonight after being held by Chinese Nationalists at Tanghai, Chusan Islands.

Details about the terms of the ship's release were not immediately available.

The Leong Bee was detained Sept. 8 while running the Nationalist blockade from Shanghai to Hongkong.

The Flying Independent's captain had radioed earlier that the British armed frigate St. Bride's Bay was standing by, within blinker-contact range and ready to give aid in case of extreme emergency. However, Britain and the United States do not recognize the blockade. The U.S. navy has refused to interfere.

4,500 B.C. Fishermen Returning To Work

VANCOUVER (CP)—Week-long strike of 4,500 British Columbia fishermen ended today.

At Sunday meetings along the coast, the fishermen, members of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, accepted the latest packers' price offers for chum salmon.

Operators will pay nine cents a pound for chum caught in Johnstone Strait and a market-fluctuating price of seven cents in other areas.

Fishermen originally demanded 10½ cents and 8 cents, respectively.

Ship Held

WASHINGTON (BUP)—The United States today called on Russia to help locate and release an American ship, with two U.S. officials aboard, which is believed to have been seized by North Korean Communists.

Shipowners Tie Up Vessels As Grain Rate Down

MONTREAL (CP)—The Star said in a newspaper story today that shipowners in Vancouver, Halifax and Montreal have started tying up their freighters "rather than accept slumping freight rates on wheat to Europe."

The rate on wheat shipments dropped to $4.75 a ton today, the report said, and several British companies are accepting as low as $4.20 per ton from Montreal.

One shipowner was quoted as saying "our guess is that within a few days the rate will drop even lower."

The operators expect to form the Canadian Shipowners' Association shortly, the Star said, for the purpose of informing Parliament of the merchant marine's plight. The problem will be placed in the hands of the government shortly, the report added.

Shipping company officials were not immediately available for comment.

Victoria Firm Low On Government Job

The lowest of four tenders for the construction of a three-story addition to the King's Printer building here was submitted to the provincial works department this afternoon by G. H. Wheaton. The Victoria contractor's bid was for $81,733.

The building, of steel and concrete, will be erected on the south side of the present structure. It will increase space for the composing room.

Other bids were Dawson and Hall Ltd., Vancouver, $85,981; Parfitt Construction Co. Ltd., Victoria, $92,566, and Associated Engineering Co. Ltd., Vancouver, $103,998.

Baby Suffocated

Efforts of a fire department inhalator crew this afternoon failed to save the life of a four-month old Victoria West baby who died of suffocation under the blankets of her pram.

The victim is Micki Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Parker, 719 Wilson Street.

Mrs. Parker had taken her baby in the pram with her to visit her mother, who lives at 710 Wilson Street.

Police received a call for aid at 11:52. A fire department inhalator with George Kulal and William Dobb attended but was unable to revive the child.

The child's father, serving with the navy, was away at the time.

Hat Off Brochie Possibly Belford's

A fawn fedora hat, similar to the one Thomas Belford was believed wearing when last seen, was found Sunday night floating on the sea about half a mile off Brochie Ledge.

The discovery was made by Victor Smith, 1209 June Street, city police said.

Discovery of the hat adds strength to evidence that Belford, missing since last Tuesday, drowned. Saturday it was reported that an oar, identified as one from the boat Belford was using, had been picked up on the beach.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York World-Telegram says today Marshal Tito is preparing to free Archbishop Alojzije, Roman Catholic Primate of Yugoslavia. He was imprisoned three years ago on charges of collaboration with the Nazis.

Tragedy At Scene Of Reunion Here

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, this morning ordered an inquest for Thursday afternoon at 3 to investigate the circumstances of the sudden death of Frederick C. Nex, 44-year-old Canadian Scottish war veteran, Saturday night at Bay Street Armories.

An autopsy has determined that death was due to ruptured blood vessel walls, otherwise known in medical terminology as "aneurism," police reported.

City detectives have learned from eye-witnesses that Nex was struck a blow and knocked down in a fight during the Canadian Scottish annual reunion party prior to being found unconscious lying on an outside bench near the main entrance.

A waiter in restaurants for more than 25 years, Nex was one of the "39ers" with the Scottish. He was transferred to another unit in England and saw service in the Italian campaign.

He was employed at the Melrose Cafe, Yates Street, and lived at the York Hotel.

Constables Alex Nichol and Jack Perry attended at the Armories with the patrol wagon following a telephoned report to the station about an injured man.

They rushed Nex to hospital. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Jack Zimmerman.

...found dead in Armory.

CUT OVER EYE

There was a small cut over the right eye.

Police say they have the name of a person who is alleged to have struck the blow.

The body is at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors.

It is expected that both, the Waiters' Union and the Scottish will take part in the funeral service.

Nex is survived by three brothers and five sisters. Brothers are A. E. (Bert) Nex and Sid Nex of Victoria; and Phillip Nex of Vancouver. Sisters are Mrs. Mary Rylands, Mrs. Matilda Brown and Mrs. Ann Pelland of Port Alberni, and Mrs. Caroline Kerr of East End, Sask.

Holiday For M.P.'s

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated in the Commons this afternoon that the House will not sit Thanksgiving Day, next Monday Oct. 10.

He said if it appeared to be the desire of members not to sit on the holiday then the government would be prepared to move the Commons stand adjourned from 1 p.m. Friday to 1 p.m. Tuesday. Loud applause greeted the statement.

Last-Minute Rush In Payment Of Taxes At City Hall Today

The deadline for payment of city taxes is today and rate-payers were queued at the cashiers' wickets at the City Hall in large numbers to avoid penalties going into effect Tuesday.

It was too early to say how receipts this year would compare with last year's collections, but an official of the assessor's department said he did not think there had been any great lag in payment of the higher taxes this year.

"It hasn't been noticeable, anyway," he stated.

The last-minute rush was usual. Many people each year leave payment of their taxes until the last two or three days before penalties become effective.

The first penalty which will be imposed Tuesday is the charging of 1 per cent on the balance of taxes owing.

On Nov. 2 another 1 per cent is imposed, and 14 days later, on Nov. 16, a third 1 per cent penalty goes into effect, making the total 3 per cent.

Finally on Dec. 2 an additional 3 per cent penalty is imposed and property owners who have not paid their taxes will face a 6 per cent levy.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

PIONEER PEDDLER

IN VIEW of my recent allusion to Mrs. Beeton of British cookery book fame, I welcomed the opportunity, provided by a reader of this column, to scan a book, recently published about an American woman who was a contemporary of that mid-Victorian genius of household management.

And I enjoyed many a chuckle over this biography—more or less—of a woman who, in her peculiar way, meant as much to the women of the New World as did Mrs. Beeton to those of the old. That woman was Lydia Pinkham.

Her name brought back vague memories of quaint old wood-cut-like advertisements of her "far-famed vegetable compound for female ailments" that I had seen in magazines of the Godey fashions era.

MUCH RESEARCH

JEAN BURTON, the author of the book, apparently did a lot of research into the life of Lydia, the Lynn, Mass., housewife who was the tenth of twelve children in a Quaker family which later rebelled against the rigid religion of the Plain Sect.

With that background, one can understand how Mrs. Pinkham managed to achieve fame and fortune in the days when it wasn't easy for women to get very far outside of the home.
And it perhaps explains why she and her sisters, after becoming involved in the intellectual and religious ferment of the day, became ardent workers in the abolitionist, temperance and feminist movements.

HUSBAND'S FAILURES

LYDIA ESTES married Isaac Pinkham, a 29-year-old widower, who seemed to be sadly lacking in business acumen, so many times did he fail. When his business finally collapsed, Lydia was 54 years of age, and she set to work to try to retrieve the family fortunes.

That was when she started to market her own original compound, which was composed of such queer ingredients as True Unicorn Root, False Unicorn Root, Life Root, Black Cohash, Pleurisy Root, and Fenugreek Seed.

PERCOLATED WITH SPIRIT

BUT, like many another nostrum of more recent vintage, the secret of its popularity may have lain in this militant temperance leader's practice of "percolating" the concoction in the "finest spirits" available, thus giving the compound an 18 per cent alcoholic content!

Not that success came immediately, even at that. After years of struggle, it was a $60 ad on the front page of the Boston Herald that started the Pinkhams on the road to riches.

A propos of that, advocates of advertising may be interested to learn that this initial venture proved so profitable that eventually the company spent $300,000,000 in newspaper advertising—and still made a handsome profit, according to the Burton book.

POLITICAL PROPAGANDA

WHILE the alcoholic admixture may have been one reason for the popularity of Lydia Pinkham's, as it was called, the flood of unsolicited testimonials also helped. They came in by hundreds of thousands from fervent females, and their publication enhanced the bonanza aspect of this liquid gold mine.

Nor did Lydia's subsequent delving into politics halt the flow of cash into the family coffers, although she supported what is known as the Greenbacker movement in the United States in the early 70's by political propaganda in her advertising.

PLUCKY FEMINIST

MRS. PINKHAM made no bones about her political predilections in these ads which suggested that those who didn't like paper money unbacked by specie—what we today call
"funny money"—probably needed a strong dose of her compound!

But while the book has its amusing side, it also reveals the dirt, disease, ignorance and superstition which flourished in those early Victorian days when woman's "place" was confined to the four walls of the home.

And, at the same time, should fill us with a more wholesome respect for the pioneers like Lydia Pinkham who, in the face of those and other handicaps, achieved a fame as a witty, intellectual, crusading feminist and shrewd businesswoman, far ahead of her time.

Soviet Recognition Of Red China Regime Held Menace

By SPENCER MOOSA
CANTON (AP)—Soviet recognition of the Chinese Communist regime is "not only an act of aggression against China but also a threat to peace and security of the Far East," Nationalist foreign minister George Yeh declared tonight.

Yeh summoned Vladimir Varshkov, Soviet charge d'affaires, to the foreign office and read him a written statement containing this assertion.

The statement described Moscow's recognition of the Red "bogus regime" at Peking as the natural culmination of a long series of Soviet violations of the Chinese-Russian treaty of 1945 and further evidence of Soviet infringement on China's political independence and territorial integrity.

"That the regime set up in Peking is Soviet-sponsored now should be clear to all the world," said the Nationalist foreign minister.

He concluded that in view of what he called Soviet's utter disregard for the sanctity of treaty obligations, the Nationalist government had decided to sever diplomatic relations with Russia and to recall its representatives from the Soviet Union.

California Train Hits Bus; 17 Out Of 22 Occupants Killed

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP)—A racing passenger train ripped into a United States Air Force bus at a crossing Sunday night, killing 17 of the 22 occupants.

Eleven of the dead were military or civilian personnel from the March air base; five were members of the Ontario Hostess Club—a service organization—the other was the chaplain, Mrs. Ruby McLaughlin, 45, mother of one of the girl victims, Juanita McLaughlin, 18.

Chief Coroner Edward P. Doyle said only five, including twin sisters sitting in different parts of the bus, escaped alive.

The men from the air base and their girl companions were home-bound from a day at the beach. No one in the bus escaped unhurt but no one was injured aboard the train, the Union Pacific's Pony Express eastbound to Chicago.

The railroad said the train was traveling at 70 miles an hour. Engineer Al Hall said "I didn't see a thing before the crash."

Survivors include Omega and Margie Pearce, 18-year-old twins from Ontario.

Ontario is about 30 miles east of Los Angeles.

Prisoner Puts End To Life In Cell

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 75-year-old Victoria man, awaiting trial for the murder of his 75-year-old wife, hanged himself in his Oakalla Prison farm cell today, officials reported.

He was F. E. Smith, awaiting trial at the fall assizes for the slaying of his wife, Sarah Elizabeth Smith, whose body was found in the couple's Oak Bay home in June. She had been strangled. The Smiths had been married 50 years.

Prison officials said Smith apparently hanged himself today with a towel. After the June slaying, Smith had slashed his wrists with a razor blade and was in hospital several days before being transferred to the prison.

Detained At Border

SEATTLE (BUP)—An International Woodworkers of America official from Everett, Wash., was refused temporary admission to the United States after attending a meeting in Vancouver.

John P. Boyd, Seattle director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said Peter Nelson, who attended a labor convention of the I.W.A. in Vancouver last week, was halted at Blaine, where he sought to cross the border.

Boyd said, "Nelson has been refused admission pending investigation of his admissibility." Boyd said Nelson, who has been prominent in Everett union circles, is a native and citizen of Norway.

British Foreign Minister Sees Canada's Premier

OTTAWA (BUP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin scheduled conferences with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and other government officials today, but said his four-day visit to Canada was mainly social.

It was expected that Bevin, who was accompanied by his secretary and is a house guest of British High Commissioner Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, would discuss the part Canada planned to play in helping Britain out of its dollar crisis.

He said when he arrived by train Sunday, however, he was here "to see all my friends on a visit I have promised for so long a time," and that his visit was a symbol of the close ties existing between Britain and the Dominion.

GREETED BY EX-PREMIER

Among those he was to see was "my dear old friend," former Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Bevin came here from the United Nations' Assembly session at Lake Success. He visited St. Laurent this morning and was to be guest of honor tonight at a dinner arranged by the federal government.

He said he would meet reporters at a press conference Tuesday, make a radio address later in the day, and go to Montreal before returning to the U.N. Wednesday night.

Straith To Open Peace River Schools

Education Minister W. T. Straith will leave Victoria by air today for the Peace River district, where he will open two new schools.

On Wednesday he will officially open a new junior-senior high school at Dawson Creek. The following day he will open a new school at Doe River.

F. T. Fairley, deputy education minister, will also make the journey.

The annual meeting of the 5th (B.C.) H.A.A. Regiment sergeants' mess will be held at 8 in the sergeants' mess quarters.

B.C. To Set All-Time Record In Tourist Travel This Year

Provincial travel bureau officials, with August travel figures at hand, said today that they were confident that 1949 would smash all B.C. tourist records.

During August 39,925 cars entered the province at border customs ports. This compares with 37,383 for August, 1948, and brings the total for the first eight months of this year to 154,989—17,020 more than during the first eight months of 1948.

"This is extremely good and highly encouraging," said the minister.

"Careful observation over many years show the average carload to be 3.75 persons, so that in the first-eight months of 1949 we had 63,825 more visitors from the United States alone than in the first eight months of 1948.

"And these figures take into account only those coming in by automobile on travelers' vehicle permits; they take no cognizance whatever of the enormous influx by common carrier—that is to say, by bus, rail and steamship.

"We have every reason, I think, to feel gratified with the results for 1949, especially when it is remembered that we have not had time yet to feel the impact or reap the benefit of the currency situation which puts the American dollar at a premium.

E. Pollock Weighs In Biggest Coho In Rotary Derby

Earl Pollock, Victoria, was the fisherman who scored the heaviest coho salmon in Sunday's Rotary Club fishing derby at Cowichan Bay. His catch weighed 14 pounds, 15 ounces.

He was fishing with Harry Woolston, former president of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association, who landed two other coho which won him his bronze and silver buttons from the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club. He now has all three buttons awarded by the fishing club for members catching coho on the bucktail fly.

There were lots of coho in the bay area yesterday, in the middle, outside the bay and between Separation and Cherry Points.

From the showing there now, club officials are anticipating a good day of fishing for the Thanksgiving week-end coho derby next Sunday at the bay. The derby has a cash prize list of $500, including a $200 prize for the person guessing the closest to the weight of the winning coho.

Several Chinese, including Austrians, Italians and Americans applied for Canadian citizenship papers in county court today. Judge H. H. Shandley presided. Several citizenship papers were awarded to Chinese residents who had applied for papers some months ago.

She leaves a brother, W. F. Howell, in this city; two nephews, William Howell, in Los Angeles, and Arthur Howell, in Winnipeg. Funeral services will be held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel Wednesday afternoon, at 1:30. Rev. Mrs. E. M. Smiley, officiating.

Wishart S. Welch, 3811 Cedar Hill Road, and Stanley J. Hayward, 1453 Denman Street, both charged with careless driving following an accident Sept. 21 on Haultain Street, near Cook, were remanded till Thursday for trial when they appeared in city police court this morning.

BUS FARE INCREASE

CITIZENS OF THIS COMMUNITY HAVE now been informed by the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee of the franchise amendments its members will recommend to their respective councils for approval by the Public Utilities Commission. These are the outgrowth of camera negotiations between the committee on the one hand and the representatives of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. and Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd. on the other. As had been intimated, they call for increased fares and certain reductions in traveled mileage on the less lucrative routes.

Because the changes would make another dent in the pocket-books of the bus patrons, they automatically invite public protest. That is the natural reaction to an increase in cost to the purchaser of any goods or services. Two things should be borne in mind, however, by all critics: In the first place, the requests of the transportation companies have been subject to exhaustive investigation by the committee—a group composed of elected representatives of the city and adjoining municipalities pledged to protect the interests of their respective people. In the second instance, the committee concedes that the companies are operating in the red on transportation. Given the increased revenue of higher fares, and assisted by the savings effected by contraction of the leanest of the non-paying lines, the companies contend they will still be furnishing service at a loss.

Under such circumstances there is logic in the application for higher fares and the acquiescence of the committee in increases which, be it noted, are below the original request of the concerns. Under the new terms, weekly pass users lose a substantial amount of the savings that they have previously effected. Before the pass provides dividends at the proposed new price the individual would have to take more than 21 rides. It is no secret, of course, that the companies are opposed to the pass. They take the position that it represents subsidized transportation for which the ticket users and cash fare depositors have to compensate if operating costs are to be met from revenue. The strength of that argument has apparently influenced the committee which, on the basis of the rejection by the voters of the original franchise proposal, feels that maintenance of the pass is essential. The 10 cent cash fare for the inner zone, would remain the same, but the price of tickets would advance from the present four for 30 cents to three for 25 cents. In this day of rising costs, both for labor and materials, the ascent of transportation prices seems unavoidable. The question now goes to the councils, the proper place for public debate.

Whether or not the law of diminishing returns will apply with serious results in the present case remains to be seen. The companies themselves are alive to the fact that some who now ride buses may, in future, walk. The patrons, after all, are the final arbiters. But the companies' computations are such that they expect to be at least able to cut losses to a point at which future anticipation of earnings justifies continuance of service.

ONE-WAY TRAFFIC

THE ENTHUSIASM OF MANY GERMANERS for the rule of Soviet occupation authorities may be gauged by the mass exodus that resulted from the Russians "World Peace Day" relaxation of zone border restrictions near Luebeck. Police of the British zone reported Saturday that "more than 2,000" Germans without proper papers or authority made their way over the border, with other thousands expected to follow them into British or American jurisdiction.

One is reminded of the story, now said to be going the rounds in Berlin, of the man who was found crossing a zonal border in Germany and was sent to an insane asylum. Someone, upon hearing of the incident, objected that this was a police matter, not one for the officials of the mental home. "Oh, no," said the informant. "This man was found crossing from the American zone into the Russian."

The strength of the tide flowing in the opposite direction may be taken as an indication that a substantial number of Germans have not been swept away by Soviet Communist propaganda, and are taking the first opportunity to prove their sanity.

OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE

THE SUCCESS OF PREVIOUS CANADA Savings Bond sales—an easy media by which the average wage earner can put away a little for a rainy day—furnishes an indication of the ready response that may be expected for the next issue, the fourth, which will be available this month. This outgrowth of the thrift habit established during the war years, when the country called upon its people for money to finance the Dominion's effort, has proved itself one of the most acceptable methods yet devised by which small weekly, semi-monthly or monthly deductions from payrolls can be set aside to become a substantial sum at the end of the year.

Probably this method of purchase is the most painless in existence. The individual is not tempted to spend money which he never actually handles, although he has earmarked it for a special purpose. Two dollars set aside each week for 50 weeks does not make a serious dent in the pay cheque. But the $100 that is amassed at the end of that period is an important item in most household budgets.

In addition to facilitating the saving of money, the bond issue serves a wider purpose. By means of it the Dominion is raising funds to retire earlier obligations. How better could it finance such undertakings than by calling on the citizens for the required funds? And what better investment can the citizen make than one which is backed by his country?

NEW RESPONSIBILITY

THE APPEAL OF PRESIDENT A. R. Mosher, of the Canadian Congress of Labor, to his fellow unionists in convention at Ottawa, to recognize the wider responsibilities of organized labor, is one that is particularly timely at this moment in history. Trade unions today have achieved a strength and power that give them a bargaining position in no sense inferior to that of management in the settlement of disputes. But as Mr. Mosher points out, "the aims of organized labor have become broader, and, instead of being directed almost entirely toward the improvement of wages and working conditions, they now embrace programs of social security and similar measures..." The truth of that statement becomes more manifest every day. "Unless we assume our share of the work to be done," the President added, "we cannot justify our existence either as individuals or as members of labor unions."

Although Mr. Mosher did not develop his argument in the direction we have in mind, he enunciated a principle that might well be remembered by unions in their conduct of negotiations with management. If labor has reached a point where it is strong enough to impose its demands on industry, even though those demands might be to the detriment of the industry or the public, then it has indeed reached the point where it must exercise voluntary self-control and discipline. Enforcement of wage demands, for instance, will do employees no good if such enforcement means that the company will go bankrupt, or that its products must be priced beyond the reach of the general public. The real strength of labor will lie in its realization of this power and the concomitant responsibility to exercise it in a manner that will benefit the nation as well as union members themselves. That is a position labor never before has held. It constitutes a crucial test the results of which should show within the not far distant future.

A DEEPER PURPOSE

UNQUESTIONABLY THE MOST DOMINANT impression created by those of our citizens who attended opening public skating sessions at Victoria's Memorial Arena was one of eagerness to enjoy once again a long denied pleasure. Some were anxious about their abilities to navigate. Some sustained bumps and bruises. But virtually all appeared pleased that a long-awaited pleasure had been afforded them.

Of no less significance, however, was the reflection of an attending constable who watched the younger element skating during the afternoon. As he phrased it: "It's a healthy sign—all those kids out there having fun. They won't be running the streets when there is something like this to keep their interest."

It is reasonable to assume that that opinion will be vindicated during the days and years ahead. Apart from all other considerations, Victoria has provided a means of healthy recreation for the entire community that should be appreciated by everyone who recognizes the deeper social implications of such facilities. And it should not pass without notice that these values are extended alike to the adjoining municipalities unprejudiced by the fact that the city taxpayer carried the construction load.

LONG WAIT IN PROSPECT

THE PROCLAMATION LAST SATURDAY of the Chinese People's Republic with Mao Tse-tung as President and Chou En-lai as Premier placed Communist China in a position from which its leaders no doubt will seek recognition by the nations of the world. With a large part of China in its grasp and little indication that the broken administration of Chiang Kai-shek will be able for long to retain the remainder, the Communist government—the third regime to claim jurisdiction over the country since the revolution of 1911—has placed a semblance of officialism on actions that heretofore have been entirely military.

It may be expected that Mao and his supporters will now apply to the United Nations for recognition of their government and rejection of the Nationalist administration, but that is a request unlikely to be granted for a considerable time yet. In the case of the Russian revolution it was a number of years before the Communist government was accepted by most nations. Economic and other factors may speed up that process in respect of Communist China, as Britain's announcement today that she is ready to "discuss recognition" suggests. But the necessity for agreement between Britain and the United States before action is taken indicates a more or less lengthy period of delay.

A humorous situation is one in which someone else is involved. It's not so funny when it happens to you.

SECOND PHASE

IF IT IS TRUE that the President announced the Russian atomic explosion only three days and two nights after he got the evidence, that would explain why the official comment has thus far avoided any discussion of its meaning. There has not been time to estimate the effects of this momentous event even if the President and the State Department and the Pentagon had had nothing else to do during the past few days.

It is, of course, true that they have known all along that the American monopoly could not last more than a few years, and that, therefore, the United States ought not to be surprised that the Russians have made a bomb. But knowledge that this would happen has been rather like that of a boy who knows that in a few years he will be a man who will be earning his living and raising a family. The boy will not have imagined in advance and made the specific decisions beforehand with which his job and his marriage will actually confront him.

THERE ARE NO SIGNS YET that policies and plans have been worked out for what is in fact the second, and the radically different, phase of the atomic age. They will have to be worked out, and there is no use closing our minds by pretending that policies and plans based on the American monopoly will not have to be revised now that there are atomic weapons on both sides of the iron curtain.

It may help to clarify the present problem if we look back to June, 1946, more than three years ago, when Mr. Baruch laid the American proposals and Mr. Gromyko laid the Soviet proposals before the United Nations. When we study these documents now, it becomes quite evident, I think, that the American monopoly was then the crucial fact both for the Soviet government and for the United States.

THE UNITED STATES offered to relinquish her monopoly gradually in return for a system of inspection and control and of guarantees which were to be enforceable because she did in fact have a monopoly of atomic weapons. "Before a country is ready," said Mr. Baruch, "to relinquish any winning weapons, it must have more than words to reassure it." The American proposals insisted on the retention of the "winning weapon" until the United States was satisfied that atomic development, which was supposed not to be far advanced in Russia, had been brought under what Mr. Truman called the other day "truly effective and enforceable international control."

Mr. Gromyko, on behalf of the Soviet government, rejected the American proposals. This meant that while the United States did not relinquish the winning weapon, Russia was free to develop the same weapon, if she could, without interference or control. The Russians were unwilling to pay the price set for sharing the American monopoly, and they choose instead to attempt to break the monopoly.

WHEN MR. GROMYKO rejected the Baruch proposals, the only risk he took was that the American bomb would be used before the Russians achieved their bomb. Mr. Gromyko, therefore, offered to negotiate a treaty outlawing the bomb provided the United States would first destroy the bombs she already had. But he cannot have believed that would be done, and he must have relied on an estimate, which was correct, that the United States would not and could not start a preventive war while she had a monopoly and in order to perpetuate her monopoly.

Therefore, in the first phase of the atomic age, that of the American monopoly, the United States was not able to impose her plans by force or to sell them at the price which the Baruch proposals exacted. The negotiations came to nothing and the Soviet government made the bomb and broke the monopoly.

QUITE OBVIOUSLY the proposals which were rejected when the United States had the monopoly will not be accepted now that she has lost the monopoly. The unique and wholly unprecedented situation is ended, where one great power has a tremendous weapon that no other power possesses. Whatever chance there was to obtain some novel and constructive solution out of that temporary advantage has been missed, and the chance will never come again. Atomic weapons have now become like other weapons. All agreement to outlaw them or to regulate them can no longer be an agreement between the haves and the have-nots. It will have to be an agreement, if there is any, between two great opposing coalitions, each armed with the same deadly weapons.

THERE may be doubt as to whether the kind of agreement which is now possible would be better than no agreement. But there can be no doubt, it seems to me, that the United States is in honor bound to explore the possibilities of agreement sincerely and persistently.

As a beginning the United States should, I believe, give serious consideration to the principle of the resolution offered by the Indian delegation to the General Assembly—that the problem of atomic energy be taken away from the Atomic Energy Commission and transferred to the International Law Commission. A change of venue might do a lot of good. For since the situation is radically new, there is no point in having the same old man repeat the same old arguments which got them nowhere.

American film industry is very fine, but sometimes we find the films a little foolish. —Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Shotgun Wedding

Making The Pendulum Swing

By BRUCE BLOSSAT, from New York

TO THE ordinary citizen not too well versed in economics, there's one very puzzling thing about behavior in the business world.

Neither the practicing businessman nor the economist ever seems to think in terms of stable condition any more. Nobody talks about a period that might be marked by a nice balance of forces, a peaceful stretch that might just possibly deserve the label of "normalcy."

SIDE TO SIDE

While the boom is on, everybody from President Truman on down is busy deploring the harmful effects of inflation, and taking out after price-gougers. The hollering is loud for controls to check the mad rush to disaster.

But when the tide has turned, is anybody happy? Certainly not. Immediately the shouts go up that we're heading for a bottomless pit. Again, there's the call for controls, this time to stave off ruinous depression. Bushels of statistics are gathered up to prove the gravity of the situation.

The psychology works like a pendulum—swinging from one side to the other but never pausing in the centre. The swings in thinking are accentuated these days because we listen more than ever to high-placed economists and to commentators and columnists as they pour out their dire warnings of trouble to come.

Take a look, for example, at the way it affects the automobile dealer. Riding the post-war crest of record consumer demand, he drove hard bargains with his customers. Many had to pay secret premiums to get cars; countless others reluctantly accepted expensive accessories as the price of getting automobiles. Radios, heaters, overdrives, fog lights, even lab robes and luggage were foisted upon unwilling purchasers.

ON THE BRINK

But now the big surge of demand has receded. Business is still very good for most dealers, so good, in fact, that the car makers probably will turn out more vehicles than in record 1929. Still, we've been having a recession, cars tend to pile up a bit in showrooms now, and who can say that a big drop doesn't lie ahead?

So what does the dealer do? He acts as if every car he sells may be the last he can unload. In Chicago, he hands out free driving lessons and 30,000-mile service warranties to customers, or offers to transport them there from as far away as Alaska and house them free until he can give them delivery on a car. He gets into the give-away game, doling out ice boxes, washers, baskets of groceries, state fair tickets.

Those same seat covers the customer was told last year he'd have to take at a fancy price are now offered free by a salesman wearing a brave smile. You don't want a radio or heater? Perfectly all right, says the dealer. Anything to oblige.

This whole attitude is neatly summed up by Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, in a Fortune Magazine article on industry prospects. Noting the current high level of car sales, Wilson nevertheless took a cautious view.

He said he was waiting anxiously for the day one of his vice presidents would approach him and say: "Well, we shipped that carload." Wilson added that he of course will ask what carload the executive is talking about, to which the vice president will reply: "That carload that changed our shortage to a surplus."

FEAST OR FAMINE

There you have it—no middle ground. A feast-or-famine psychology. The salesman who either snarls "take it and like it" or loads you up to the chin with free extras.

The mere layman wishes earnestly for a happy resting place somewhere between these extremes. Maybe there isn't any, but it seems like there ought to be.

Delving In The Ruins

By DOUGLAS LARSEN, From Washington

ONE OF THE important and unheralded jobs being done most efficiently by Allied occupation authorities in Europe is a careful writing of the history of the Nazi rule in Germany and of the Axis' side of the war.

IMPORTANT GAPS

Fortunately the western countries captured most of the official Nazi records and documents. By pooling what each one collected, American, English and French experts have been able to piece together a pretty detailed and intelligent record of everything that went into the growth of Nazism and the prosecution of the war.

There are some important gaps, however. The Russians hold many of the official files and documents. These records have been moved out of Germany and what they contain and how complete they are, nobody but the Russians know. They have flatly refused to discuss the matter with the Allied scholars.

German foreign office records and technical data on various scientific developments, unfortunately, have the biggest gaps. It is believed likely that the Russians grabbed more foreign office records than the Americans or British. They may have concentrated on this on purpose, to be able to hide forever the details of the agreement between Hitler and Stalin at the start of the war. The U.S. made public some of the details which it had of this agreement several years ago. But the experts agree much of the information remains hidden.

MANY DETAILS

Included in the batch of missing records are many of the details of the German attempts to get co-operation during the war with Latin American countries. Knowing how successful or unsuccessful such attempts were would be of extreme importance to the State Department and military experts for future defense planning.

As far as the German scientific records go, it is believed that America and England broke about even with the Russians. In this field the grab went beyond records. The technicians and scientists who worked on the developments of German submarines and more sub experts. But the Americans got more records and personnel in connection with German developments of guided missiles.

Now that the examination and use of the Nazi records is well under way and some phases almost finished, the U.S. army has begun to worry about what to do with them for permanent keeping. To look into this problem it sent one of America's outstanding experts on records and archives management, Dr. Ernst M. Posner, to Europe this summer.

WELL FITTED

Dr. Posner was well fitted for the job. He formerly taught archives administration in Berlin and now is with American University, teaching the subject in connection with U.S. and state governments. He found that the German historians are eager to get all of these records returned to them as soon as possible. There are many things that they would like to find out about what went on inside the Nazi Party itself.

Involved in the problem, of course, is the question of how and when all of this material will be made public. The great bulk of it is still classified and confidential information. Most of it, however, has only historical interest.

GLOBAL SURVEY

Associated Press News Analyst
SMALL straws show which way the wind blows.

One of the encouraging signs of our harassed times is the great number of people of both sexes and all ages whom one sees grouped about the news printers on a pleasant afternoon. Maybe my imagination is working overtime, but that's the way it strikes me.

"And what," demands the lady from Texas, "do you find encouraging in that? They're reading about Russia having the atomic bomb, I suppose—or about Marshal Tito and his troubles with the Kremlin—or about the cold war?"

BASEBALL MANIA

Well, madam, I reckon they're reading about those things. You have to dig through such news in order to get anything else these days. But their big interest of the moment probably is centered in the world series. And that's the way it should be.

Interest in the lighter things of life doesn't mean there is no interest in the serious problems. Even the hangman plays checkers when he's off duty.

There are no people on earth more deeply interested in world affairs than Americans, or who are better informed. I've traveled about the United States a good deal, discussing foreign affairs, and can testify that even the young folk of high school age are well informed. The United States has undergone a wonderful development in this respect during the past generation.

Now Americans aren't neglecting weighty matters for baseball. They're just maintaining their perspectives by balancing their mental diets. One-food diets aren't healthful.

It probably is true that the average American is fed up to the neck with the constant barrage of news about the cold war. We've been bombarded with it day and night ever since the end of the world conflict, and it certainly frays the nerves.

The colors blend and harmonize, lending satisfaction and comfort to the heart—accentuating and completing nature's magnificent panorama of peace and strength and beauty.

TENTED CAMPERS

The Times of London

If nobody has much respect for the Englishman's endeavors (if such they can be called) to make himself comfortable, the zeal and ingenuity which he displays in making himself, whenever he gets the chance, about 40 times more uncomfortable than he need be have long been a source of astonishment to the foreigner.

The alacrity, for instance, with which the inhabitants of these islands forsake their homes and, erecting with much difficulty various forms of tent, go in for what they call camping bewilders the most sympathetic observer from Europe. In his love for the soil of his motherland he yields to none, but he does not voluntarily go to sleep on it. Scarce though the food, vile the cooking, and unaccommodating the innkeepers may be in England, he finds it difficult to believe that the English are driven by sheer necessity to lower their standards of living to those of rather inexperienced savages.

FINEST TRIBUTE

New York Times

A well-baked apple pie is a pretty sight. Apple pie is one of the oldest varieties of pies, and one would think that by this time, midway through the twentieth century, it would be possible to order a slice of apple pie confident of seeing set before one a light, crumbly crust and ambrosial filling. But it is not so; crusts range in texture from delicious golden browns to gray slabs of dough not unlike wet cardboard, and fillings no less seem to defy standardization. There are too few poets in pies, cooks who know just how much cinnamon or nutmeg and lemon juice an apple pie needs or who know the magic words to be spoken when the pie is placed in the oven. It is significant that when we want to say something is ship-shape we say it is "in apple pie order." No other pie has won for itself a comparable tribute.

Stalin Book Outlines Soviet Demands On Reds In Other Lands

Moscow published recently a new volume of the works of Stalin. This story, giving quotations from the Stalin writings and Pravda's comments, has just reached the United States by mail passing through Soviet censorship.

The interpretation placed on Stalin's words can be examined with these events in mind—in the search for clues as to how the mind of the Soviet leadership is working.

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW (AP)—The 11th volume of the works of J. V. Stalin has just been published. It has been greeted as a fresh reminder of the goal of world revolution and of the loyalty the Soviet Union demands of Communists elsewhere in the world.

While this volume covers pronouncements of Stalin from January, 1928, to March, 1929, its application to today's complicated international situation is evidenced by comment of Pravda, the official Communist Party Newspaper. In some instances Pravda pointedly applied the words of Stalin 20 years ago to what is happening now in Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia.

TASK OF 'BROTHERS'

One chapter deals with "question of the international revolutionary movement and tasks of brother Communist parties." Stalin laid down this principle: The obligations of the international working class "consist in support of the proletariat of the U.S.S.R. in its struggle against internal and foreign foes."

(This could well have been the beginning of today's Soviet principle that Communist governments elsewhere bow to Russia's leadership. This is at the basis of the current Tito-Stalin split. Tito has refused to bow to Stalin and has been made an outcast by Europe's Communist parties.)

In this chapter Stalin said the Socialist revolution in the Soviet Union is in essence "part of the world revolution, the base and instrument of the world revolutionary movement."

Stalin also expressed pessimism for world peace so long as capitalism remains dominant in a large part of the world.

He said "it would be stupid to presume that international capital will leave us in peace."

Stalin then went on to enunciate the principle of loyalty to the Soviet Union's revolution. The chapter includes this speech to the Central Committee in 1928, published in the works for the first time. This is the principle:

"These obligations (of the international proletariat) consist in support of the proletariat of the U.S.S.R. in its struggle against internal and foreign foes, in the war against a war directed toward stifling the proletarian dictatorship of the U.S.S.R., and preaching a direct transference of the armies of imperialism to the side of the proletarian dictatorship in the U.S.S.R. in the events of attack on the U.S.S.R."

SEEN AS BETRAYAL

Of this, Pravda said:

"Any deviation from it is a betrayal of the cause of socialism and a passing over to the camp of the bourgeoisie. This has happened today to the Tito clique in Yugoslavia.

"Having betrayed internationalism, the bourgeois nationalist Tito clique has gone over finally from the camp of democracy and socialism to the camp of the sworn foes of the Soviet Union, the countries of the peoples' democracy and the whole world Communist movement, to the camp of imperialism and fascism."

A significant chapter is the one concerning "Socialist reorganization of agriculture." In this Stalin set forth that the transformation of agriculture to a collectivized economy formed the basis for tearing out the roots of capitalism in a country primarily agricultural.

Singer Buddy Clark Killed, Five Injured In Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Popular singer Buddy Clark was killed Saturday night and five others, including radio commentator Sam Hayes, were injured in a plane crash in a Los Angeles residential area.

Clark, 44, one of North America's favorite crooners for a decade or so, died in a police hospital, despite oxygen and transfusion efforts, about an hour after the crash.

Death was caused by multiple skull fractures. The others were not believed critically hurt.

The crash came as the pilot of the chartered plane attempted a forced landing on Beverly Boulevard. The party was returning from the Stanford-Michigan football game at Palo Alto.

Others injured were James L. Hayter, 27, the pilot, of Fresno, Calif.; Hayes' wife, Sally, 28 and two NBC executives, Frank Beverly, 40, Beverly Hills, and Jennings Pierce, 52, North Hollywood.

NO WORDS UTTERED
Hayes, 45-year-old west coast broadcaster for 20 years, said that a minute and a half before the crash "we all knew that this was it."

"We had been noisy and talkative all the way back from the game, but from the moment we knew we were going to crash up there was not a sound uttered. We were all too scared to speak."

"Somehow I remembered the acrobats in a circus I saw Friday night, and how relaxed they were in their tumbling. At the last moment I made myself go limp and just rolled right out of the plane. I guess that's what saved me."

Clark, whose recordings and radio work during the last few years had boosted him into the higher income brackets, leaves a wife, the former model Nedra Clark, and a daughter, Penny, six. By a previous marriage to singer Louise Hughes, he had two children, Thomas, 11, and Katherine, nine.

In a support suit brought by his first wife earlier this year, she said he earned $100,000 a year. He testified, however, that his 1948 earnings were $38,390.

A native of Boston, Clark, in 1934, made his big-time singing debut in New York with Benny Goodman's orchestra on NBC's "Let's Dance" program.

Religious Persecution To Be Debated In U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—The question of religious persecution in eastern European countries is slated to explode again this week in the United Nations' Assembly.

The 59-member special political committee will start discussing the charges of violation of human rights late today or tomorrow. A bitter debate is in prospect, with the Russian bloc lined up against most of the other members.

Western powers are expected to press vigorously for some action on the imprisonment of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, Primate of Hungary; prosecution of Protestant leaders in Bulgaria rising out of the recent trials there; and general charges of violation of human rights in Romania.

Canada is closely involved in the dispute as a signatory of the peace treaties. The Dominion has aligned herself with Britain and the United States in protest notes from those countries.

The charges came before the last Assembly, but were held over for the present session to allow Britain and the United States to exhaust machinery provided in the peace treaties.

The treaties provided that the Big Three signatories—Britain, the United States and Russia—should set up a commission to investigate any charges of violations of rights guaranteed under the treaties.

It is understood the western powers will seek to have the Assembly send the case to the International Court of Justice.

Scottish Members Relive Experiences Of Their War Years

Three hundred and thirty-five present and former wearers of the colors of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) invaded Bay Street Armories Saturday night for another grand reunion party.

It was the fourth held by the two-war frontline regiment since the end of the last world conflict and was put on by the regimental association, organized for the purpose of keeping together all those who have been associated with the Scottish.

Speech-making was cut to a bare minimum. Old platoon chums were soon grouped off and once again relived highlight humorous experiences in days in khaki in Canada and overseas.

SILENT TRIBUTE

Pipers Andrew Pollock, Gerry Shepherd and Ray Gandy piped the lament "Flowers of the Forest" as the veterans stood with bowed heads in silent tribute to members of the regiment who paid the supreme sacrifice.

According to James Sutherland, association president, more than 100 members were added to the association roster.

Lieut.-Col. W. H. Parker said grace. Toast to the King was proposed by Maj. Eric Stewart. Brig. F. N. Cabellu proposed the toast to the regiment's patroness, H.R.H. Princess Royal. Toast to the regiment was proposed by Capt. Hector Alexander, and Lieut.-Col. R. D. Travis, regimental commander, replied to it. Lieut.-Col. E. English, 2nd Battalion commander, also spoke.

Messages of regret for being unable to attend were read from Lieutenant-Governor C. A. Banks, honorary colonel of the regiment; Col. Cy Peck, V.C., Lieut.-Col. Des Crofton, Lieut.-Col. Larry S. Henderson and Col. J. R. Kingham.

Gateman Tells How People Try To Enter Into Film Studios

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—So far no tourist has used a Trojan Horse to get within film studio walls, but they've tried about everything else.

Take it from Bob Callender. He guards the gate that leads through the publicity department and into M.C.M. studios.

"Everybody wants to get into the plant," he says. "I get well-dressed men who look as though they have the highest Dun and Broadstreet ratings in the country, and men with tattered coats and holes in their soles."

Getting inside a movie studio is almost as hard as peeking into the Kremlin — if you have no friend in the industry. That's why the theme song of Callender's job is "No, no, a thousand times no."

"People think I make up the rules," he remarked. "They think they can wheedle or bribe me and gain entrance."

SCREEN TESTS

The question he hears most often is "May we see the studio?" next comes "How about a screen test?"

"I pass the buck on that one," said Callender. "I send them next door to the casting department. They can hear the 'No' there."

Scads of job-seekers drop in. They prefer acting jobs, but nowadays they'll take anything. They seem to think if they can land any studio position, stardom will inevitably result.

LEGS HELP

"During the war, we had to replace our messenger boys with girls," Callender recalled. "The reception room overflowed with young applicants. When we asked if they were interested in acting, the answer was always 'yes.'"

The word got around that the studio didn't want its messengers to be budding actresses, so the girls—wearing inch-thick makeup — began murmuring "Dear, no, we want to be stenographers."

Naturally, healthy gams are important to messengers, so Callender always asked applicants: "How are your legs?" one girl misunderstood. She lifted her skirt and glided around the room like a Powers model.

Canadians To Back U.S. Steel Strike

OTTAWA (CP)—The national policy conference of the 50,000-member Canadian branch of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) today voted support to the 528,000 U.S.W.A. members who walked out in the United States.

The 183 U.S.W.A. delegates, representing locals scattered between Newfoundland and the B.C. coast, were meeting here in a conference preceding the annual convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor, set to open Monday.

Aussies To Quit Home For Premier

OTTAWA (BUP) — Francis Forde, Australian High Commissioner to Canada, said today he would vacate the Edwards home at the earliest possible date.

Forde commented on the government's announcement Friday that the government-owned Edwards property would be converted into an official Prime Minister's residence very shortly. The Australian High Commissioner's offices have been located in the building for the past two years.

The Strange Secret of the One-Way Door

There is a famous painting called "The Light of the World." It shows Christ knocking at the door of a humble dwelling.

When the artist, Holman Hunt, completed it, a critic turned to him and said: "There is an error in your painting. You have forgotten to put a latch on the door."

"There should be no latch on that door," said the artist. "It is the door to the human heart. It can be opened only from within."

Teacher Has Money Problem

MISS MARCELLA LINDSAY, M.A.

Devaluation of the pound has been a major catastrophe for Miss Marcella Lindsay, M.A., exchange teacher from Scotland, now a member of the staff of North Saanich High School.

Miss Lindsay's salary, paid from Scotland, is not as large as its equivalent Canadian salary. Then there is a British income tax deducted.

"Now there will be 25 per cent more to come off," Miss Lindsay mourns, "which just means that exchange teachers in Canada from Britain will not be able to travel at all. We simple have no funds."

"And I was so looking forward to seeing something of your wonderful country and of the United States before I returned home," she adds.

A graduate of University of Glasgow, Miss Lindsay is teaching French and English in the North Saanich school, while Victoria's Miss Kay Baker takes her place in the Glasgow High school.

"I'm enjoying the experience very much," she says, "although I do find some differences, especially in organization."

In the British Isles, she explains, children start school at five years of age and therefore reach high school at an earlier age. They also take high school subjects sooner than they do here.

"But that is only a minor difference," Miss Lindsay laughs, "after all the students, younger or older, are just the same as the Scottish lads and lasses when it comes to the actual teaching."

Miss Lindsay is living at Sidney at present, "to be near the school." She is batching and enjoying the experience.

"I've always enjoyed cooking, and when I was home I did much of the cooking for our family, so I'm not going to starve you can be sure," she tells you.

Arriving in Canada early in August she stopped at Banff for two weeks before coming on to Victoria.

"It was a wonderful experience," she tells you.

"Perhaps it was a good thing I had that experience," she concludes with a wry smile, "unless something can be done about my salary. I'm going to be staying very close to Victoria for the rest of my visit."

Old-World Beauty Reflected In Brown-Christensen Rites

A quartette of attendants in identical pastel-toned gowns of frosted organdie mounted over nylon, which repeated the old-world lines of the bridal dress, were a lovely foil for satin-gowned Diane Edith Lillian Christensen, when she became the bride of Douglas Lorne Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel P. A. Christensen, 2373 Bowker Avenue are the bride's parents, and the groom is son of Professor and Mrs. Lorne A. Brown, Canadian Services College Royal Roads.

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns heard the vows of the young couple in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay Saturday evening at 7:30.

Pastel gladioli and chrysanthemums were placed before the altar, and guest pews were marked with beale heather and carnations for the occasion.

Fashioned on old-world lines, the white satin wedding gown was yoked in sheer, and gathered in front and over the shoulders with tiny pearls.

In period mode, rows of ruffled lace were revealed below the flounced hemline of the hoop-skirt; sleeves were long and pointed over the hands.

A bonnet headpiece of white satin held the lengthy illusion net veil, and the bride wore a pearl necklace, as her only jewelry.

White carnations were intermingled with red roses in the bridal bouquet.

In similar gowns, but, with dainty puff sleeves, were Mrs.

Joyce Harper, honor matron for her sister in pale yellow; Mrs. Paul Christensen, sister-in-law of the bride, in lilac; and Miss Dawn Shannon and Miss Margaret McGregor in pastel green and blue. They carried rose-centred Colonial bouquets of pastel spray chrysanthemums and carnations to tone with their gowns, and wore matching headpieces similar to that of the bride.

Little Sharon March, flower girl, was frocked in pink, with matching headpiece, and carried a Colonial posy.

James R. Brown was best man and ushering were Paul Christensen, Bruce McLaren and Gerald Elliot.

"O Perfect Love" was sung by the church choir, as the newlyweds signed the register.

A reception was held at Craigmye Guest House, where Harry F. Davis proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Christensen, who selected a wine-toned gown and grey accessories, and Mrs. Brown, wearing a blue gown with black accessories, assisted in welcoming guests.

A decorated pink and white wedding cake topped with lilies of the valley, and flanked with pink candles and miniature wedding bells, centred the bride's table.

Later when Mr. and Mrs. Brown left on their honeymoon the bride wore a salmon pink tailored gabardine suit, grey topcoat and matching accessories.

They will make their home at 2583 Heron Street.

Nuptial vows were exchanged by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. McNaught, 553 Raynor Avenue, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Wilson, of Ottawa in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Saturday at 8 before Rev. J. L. W. McLean.

Navy blue nylon sheer posed over rose-hued taffeta fashioned the bride's gown, enriched with insets of lace. Her hat was in matching rose felt trimmed with ostrich feather tips, and she wore navy accessories. Opelia roses and swainsona composed her bouquet.

Sole attendant for her sister, Miss Thelma McNaught wore a gown of French blue satin, with accessories in grey and pale pink. Her bouquet was a small crescent of pale pink carnations and swainsona.

T. E. Batten was best man, and guests were seated by Kenneth Kightly and John McNaught, Jr.

At the home of the bride's parents, the newlyweds received their guests. White, pink and gold created the decorative motif, and the wedding cake, arranged with vases of flowers on either side, formed the table centerpiece. Alec Moffatt proposed the toast to the bride.

When Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left on their honeymoon, the bride wore mink furs with her forest green suit. She had accessories in taupe, and wore gardenia en corsage.

The newlyweds will make their home at 30 Douglas Street on return.

meeting a banquet in Mrs. Gill's honor will be held in Terry's Roseroom at 6 p.m. Mrs. Headdy, E3383 is in charge of arrangements.

Young Artists Featured At Piano Tea

New headquarters of the Victoria Musical Arts Society, the reception room of the Windermere Hotel, was scene of the society's opening evening of the season, a piano tea, held Saturday afternoon.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. J. O. Cameron, honorary president; Dr. Roger Manning, president; and Mrs. P. E. Corby, past president, who convened the affair, assisted by feminine members of the society. Following a short piano recital presented by Lorna Stuart, Medeline Collett and Joan Creighton, tea was served.

Mrs. W. T. Straith, Mrs. P. E. George, Miss Sara Spencer and Miss Kathleen Agnew presided at the urns and members of the junior and intermediate groups assisted.

In a brief address, Dr. Manning outlined change of policy of the society.

"Rather than sponsoring out-of-town artists," he said, "we feel that providing opportunities for talented young musicians of the community to gain experience in public performances under as nearly professional conditions as possible, will be a more permanent contribution to the musical life of city."

Graduates Wear White Caps, Gowns In St. Ann's Ceremony

Rev. Geoffrey Penfold, diocesan chancellor, presided at annual commencement exercises at St. Ann's last week-end.

Wearing white caps and gowns, graduates entered the auditorium in procession, taking their places on a flower-banked stage in front of the high school choir. Miss Maureen Scott, school president, welcomed the guests. A short program included vocal solos by Miss Patsy Ruth Sinnott and a piano solo by Miss Madeleine Collett.

Joseph McKenna presented the following graduates for diplomas: Senior matriculation, Misses Alice Ball, Maureen Burnett, Angela Cassidy (honor standing), Mary Christie, Naoko Oikawa, Maureen O'Sullivan and Diana Ramsden (honor standing).

Diplomas for completion of university entrance: Misses Mary Brown, Mary Johanna Carroll, Violet Chunggranes (honor standing), Anne Dale, Kathleen Doore, Diana Endersby (honor standing), Margaret Gonnason, Valerie Hammond-Williams, Joyce Hooper, Moya Martin, Florence Martin, Elizabeth Morten, Enid Oldfield, Marianne Petzinger and Eleanor Raab (honor standing). Silver medal donated by His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada was awarded to Miss Diana Endersby for highest marks in university entrance, while the bronze medal donated by His Excellency was awarded to Kathleen Bayley for highest standing in Grade VIII.

Other awards for class excellence were merited by Marian Bird, Grade XI; Kathleen McDonald, Grade X; and Patricia Burnett, Grade IX. Miss Mary Johanna Carroll was presented with a leather-bound missal donated by Dr. Aylward for highest standing in the senior Christian doctrine class. Cash prizes for Christian doctrine in other classes, donated by the Catholic Women's League, were awarded to Marian Noone, Eileen Archer, Maureen Pedneault, Grace Garret, Marie Earthy, and Patricia Champion. Cash prize donated by the Catholic Women's League for highest marks in Canadian history in Grade VIII was won by Monica Nash.

A special award $25, donated by the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus to the student obtaining highest mark in any individual subject in the provincial departmental examinations was merited by Miss Eleanor Raab who obtained 97% in mathematics. Special prizes were awarded to Miss Mary Johanna Carroll and Miss Marian Noone, who obtained fourth place and honorable mention respectively, in a recent nation-wide essay contest sponsored by the Toronto "Ensign."

Valedictory, given by the Misses Moya Martin, Eleanor Raab and Mary Jo Carroll stressed need of a return to religion and to the Christian ideal of womanhood and family life.

Father Penfold addressed graduates, speaking of the inestimable value of true Christian education, training the will to choose what is right, to guide the course of conduct, not letting it be swayed by feeling and emotional appeal.

Class pledge, led by Miss Violet Chunggranes, and the school song closed the program.

Senator's Speech Reminds Ottawa 'Women Are People'

OTTAWA (CP)—One of Canada's two women parliamentarians, Senator Iva Fallis (P.C.-Ontario) last week reminded Parliament that women are people.

Speaking in the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, Senator Fallis, now entering her 15th session, recalled that this wasn't always accepted as so.

She referred especially to the government's proposal to abolish appeals to the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

"If it had not been for this right of appeal," she said, "I would not be here today."

She recalled an editorial in a newspaper after women had been granted the franchise after the First World War. It said that it was inevitable that women must be admitted to the Commons, but expressed gratitude they would never reach the senior chamber.

When the question arose of appointing women to the Senate a few years later, Senator Fallis said, the Supreme Court of Canada—"in all seriousness"—ruled against it on the ground that a woman was "not a person under the meaning of the act."

The qualifications had stated merely that a senator must be a British subject 30 years or more old, with $4,000 property and other qualifications, but made no reference to sex.

"Yet the Supreme Court of Canada," she repeated, "made this ruling in all seriousness." Later the Privy Council reversed the ruling and "declared that a woman is a person."

SENATOR IVA FALLIS

Taking an independent stand throughout her address, Senator Fallis said she disagreed with speeches by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, in the Commons, and John T. Halg, opposition leader in the Senate.

They had promised "co-operation" with the government. She was willing to "co-operate," she said, but was "puzzled" in determining just where the Conservative leaders asked for co-operation.

That point established, she launched into her defence of women as people, a lone female figure among male parliamentarians in the absence of Senator Cairine Wilson (L.Ontario), a member of Canada's delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

CALM PARENTS INSPIRE RELAXATION FOR BABY

Young parents are so scared of their new treasure and so inept in handling it, that they may cause the baby to be cross and nervous just because of this. An infant needs, above all things, to be handled by a calm, placid person.

The old practice of rocking and singing to a baby brought a good response because the mother could feel satisfied she was "doing something" for the baby and so be placid herself. A baby can go to sleep easily without these attentions, as whole generations of babies have proved, but if rocking the baby soothes the mother and makes her less jumpy and nervous, it were well for her to adopt this practice.

Loud sounds cause a child to jump and shake and throw up his hands. So the mother who talks loudly around a young baby, or who is insensitive to its emotions as to allow a radio to reverberate all over the house, cannot complain if she has a crying, restless child. She is fostering just such behavior. Loud sounds frighten the baby. Not that it is sensible to go around tip-toeing and hushing everyone because a baby is in the house, but it is worse to subject the baby's sensitive ears to loud noises and harsh voices. It takes time for him to become used to those.

One of the unsung values of breast feeding is that a mother sits quietly and holds the baby pressed against her body. This gives the baby a sense of protection and of love and builds up his self-confidence and security. While she is nursing the baby the mother is relaxed and this relaxation practiced many times a day has a good influence upon her.

The baby who eats and sleeps almost constantly during the day—the book baby, as it were—is the one who is under the soothing, quieting influence of calm, quiet parents who handle him in like manner.

On the contrary the child who is tossed in the air, the one who when placed on his mother's or father's knee, is always jumped up and down, nervously, the one who lives in a world of noise and confusion, is the baby who will sleep poorly and react nervously to his environment.

Even if the baby doesn't understand words, he feels the tension of his parents when they lift and handle him and he becomes tense and upset himself. Calm down. The baby won't break. He'll be relaxed and show it, when you are.

Our leaflet No. 5 on "The First Six Weeks" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Gospel 'Good News', Says Archbishop Of York In Service

A full choir of surpliced men, women and boys filed into Christ Church Cathedral Sunday morning for the service at which Dr. Garbett preached.

The unsettled, uncertain world of today needs "good news" and the gospel of Christ is here to bring it to individuals and nations, as it has in centuries past. Such was the message of hope and faith brought to 1,800 persons who packed every available spot in Christ Church Cathedral Sunday morning to hear the Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Dr. Cyril Foster Garbett, Lord Archbishop of York and Primate of England.

Dean G. R. Calvert took the service and a full choir, clad in white surplices was in attendance. In the sanctuary with the Lord Archbishop were Rt. Rev. Harold E. Sexton, Bishop of British Columbia and Most Rev. W. R. Adams, Archbishop of Yukon.

On mounting the pulpit, Dr. Garbett brought greetings and goodwill from the Mother Country and said the occasion brought home to all the "closest communion" with the Mother church. Most Anglican churches in the diocese had radios installed to hear the distinguished visitor.

During the course of his sermon the Lord Archbishop said there was a great struggle all over the world as to the value of man, that there was a line of thought that man "is only an instrument of the state or of a great industrial system," and that he exists merely to be used. "Christianity takes a most definite stand that man is of value and has rights and the right of freedom," he declared.

Taking the words "Preach the Gospel," from the 16th chapter of the gospel of St. Mark, 15th verse, Dr. Garbett told the congregation: "The purpose of the Church of God is to preach the gospel. It is good news."

Just as the words of the gospel brought good news, hope and faith to the Jew, Gentile and Greek in ancient days, it has good news for our time, he said.

"Our age does indeed need good news. We live in an age of crisis; millions of people are sorrowful, anxious and worried. People are more worried perhaps than at any other time in history."

"Over mankind hangs the danger of the atomic bomb with all its awful possibilities," Dr. Garbett said. "There is the deepening shadow of atheistic communism blotting out both faith and freedom."

On the steps of Christ Church Cathedral prior to morning service Sunday, left to right: Dean G. R. Calvert, Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Dr. Cyril Foster Garbett, Lord Archbishop of York and Primate of England; Rt. Rev. Harold E. Sexton, Bishop of British Columbia, and Rev. John Kent, chaplain to Dr. Garbett.

"The Christian faith has good news today—it has news of God."

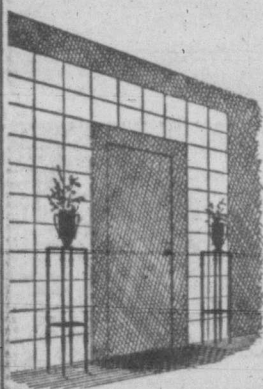

Christianity teaches that God is the living lord, infinite in his love for humanity, said the Lord Archbishop, God is not an impersonal power, he added.

"Sometimes people ask, is man of any value? The Christian faith replies every man and child has value in the sight of God and God cares for them," said the Lord Archbishop.

He told the congregation this life was a school preparing people for a great life after death. God, he said, was ready to help and individuals and nations have failed because they did not ask for that help.

Dr. Garbett left Victoria on the afternoon boat Sunday, in company with Bishop Sexton and his chaplain, Rev. John Kent. The Lord Archbishop spoke today and will speak again to-night in Vancouver.

INSTALLMENT 14

REPORTING AT THE YARD
MOSSFORD IS less than an hour's run from New Scotland Yard with a fast car and a competent driver.

"Thirty mile limit," Ducros growled. It was the first time he had spoken for some time.

Dollimore grinned and lessened the pressure of his foot on the accelerator. "Sorry!" he said.

"It would be a fitting finish to a brilliant week-end if we were run in for exceeding the speed limit," Ducros said bitterly.

"Do you mean to let me put my point of view to the Chief?" Dollimore asked some time later.

"I'm going to insist on it, my lad. My own story is one of unqualified negation."

"Yes. But will you do your best to make him see the case as I do?"

"I don't think you will need a great deal of help, Dolly. You can do the talk part a lot better than I ever could."

"Apart from my belief that it's the work of a dangerous gang which includes Flash Cardew, we haven't got far. Nothing else will excuse our not having carried out a routine search of the servants' rooms for one thing, in spite of the fact that we could account for every one of them."

"They've got the photos and the fingerprints," Ducros said with increasing bitterness.

"Look here, chief, you're letting this get you down. Hang it all, you can't manufacture clues and you can't arrest people on suspicion. Anyway, here we are. Now for it!"

From his office, Ducros 'phoned to the Chief. Dollimore watched him and listened rather grimly to the part of the conversation he could hear.

"Come on," he said as he replaced the receiver. "He seemed very surprised that we were here at all."

"You open the ball," Dollimore said. "If he flies off the handle I'll come in at once."

NOT A CLUE
"Didn't expect you two back as soon as this," the Chief said.

"What's the news?" "Broadly speaking, sir, there isn't any," Ducros said. "I take it you are acquainted with my telephone report and have seen the evening papers?"

"Yes. I learned more from the papers."

"We were there, of course, when it happened. There isn't the shadow of a clue."

"But, good gracious, you don't mean that you've quietly walked out on the case an hour or so after it occurred? You haven't even got the reports from the Fingerprint Department?"

"No. But I know what they will be—the prints of the people who would be in that room in the normal course. The people who actually did it are not the sort to leave fingerprints."

The Chief nodded. "I thought of Flash Cardew at once," he said.

"He's been there recently," Ducros said tactfully. "A young fellow—a sort of dance-partner, but a very decent chap—recognized the picture we had of him. He was there with the man Fernandez, who runs the place, and a solicitor called Rollier."

"What was missing?" "A few rings—fairly valuable, but not the stuff people of their kind commit murder for."

"No one commits murder if they can help it. Almost always the immediate cause is fear," the Chief said.

"Dollimore and I came to the conclusion that we could do little else at that end. We've got to find Cardew, and he isn't there. Dollimore has worked out a theory—that's all it is—which you may care to hear."

"Let's hear it, Inspector."

"The deceased had a son in Paris, sir. A waster and a wash-out. She made him an allowance so long as he kept out of England. She was exceedingly wealthy. He stands, of course, to gain by her death. Rollier, the solicitor, is in touch with him—has paid him the allowance, and so on. I examined the passports of Fernandez and a woman named Sadie Pachmann. They have both been to Paris recently."

"So have I," the Chief put in.

"There is also the matter of the will," Dollimore pursued.

"The dead woman's secretary is quite sure that a will was drawn up a short time ago by Rollier. He said there was no will in existence. Later, when he suspected that we had heard about the will, he said that the will had been destroyed by the deceased. Thus, the son in Paris will inherit the whole estate. I think Rollier was lying about the will, and Supt. Ducros concurs."

"It would be a pretty little plot," the Chief admitted thoughtfully.

"Moreover," Dollimore went on, "when I asked for Fernandez' passport I noticed another in the drawer he took it from. And the name on it was Cardew."

"Did you seize it?" "No. Nor did I let Fernandez know that I had noticed it. I thought it advisable, for the moment, not to let him know that we associated him with Cardew."

"That's very interesting about the passport. I wonder what passport Cardew is using? He must have one," the Chief said thoughtfully.

"Not necessarily sir, with respect. He is a British subject and is apparently in England."

The Chief nodded.

"What do you think of the Inspector's idea, Ducros?"

"I think it extremely ingenious. Much of it is theory, but the few facts that we have are not at variance with it. It's like a jig-saw puzzle, but some of the bits do fit in."

The Chief sat back in his chair and lit his pipe slowly and thoughtfully.

"I think you had better go back, Superintendent. Stay at a hotel in the town. Take Detective Sergeant Wilkes with you and thoroughly examine the servants. The last thing I want them to suspect is that we regard the affair as other than a simple robbery with murder superimposed. Get a list of the servants whom she would have recognized if she came upon them in her room and so on. Get me?"

Ducros nodded . . . and waited. "And I think that you, Dollimore, might have a roving commission for a day or so. Is this man Rollier, for example, a London solicitor?"

"Yes."

"Look him up. Find out all you can about him—we may even have a record here. If Cardew turns up in Mossford—as he may—snaffle him at once. Ducros, I'll provide you with a variety of charges."

"Very good, sir."

"Turn up there tomorrow morning with a couple of local constables and make rather a splash about it."

"I get you, sir."

"I think, on the whole, you've done as well as could be expected and are on the right lines. The whole business is right up Flash Cardew's street."

"Thank you, sir," said Ducros, rising.

"Good luck, Inspector," the Chief added with a smile.

"We're well out of that," Ducros said when they were once more in his office.

"I'm afraid you've got the dirty end of the stick."

"Youth will be served," Ducros smiled. "Pull it off, my lad, and the college will probably make you a professor."

"I wonder if there is anything about Fernandez or Sadie Pachmann in the records here?"

"Go and find out," Ducros said. "I'm going home for an hour or so."

DREW A BLANK
Dollimore drew a blank in the Records Department. As far as the London police were concerned the careers both of Fernandez and Sadie Pachmann were blank. Rollier, too, did not appear in the records. Dollimore expected this. If there had been anything serious against him he would not have still been on the roll of solicitors.

"The New York police ought to be able to help us with the Yank," the official in charge said.

"Yes. But don't worry," Dollimore said. "I'm certain that they are all wrong 'uns."

He was thinking very hard in the taxi as he was driven back to his bachelor flat in Westminster. And the thinking process was continued in his bath with the result that when he dressed he put on an ancient tweed suit and went by underground to Aldgate East.

He dined in an amusing little club some ten minutes away from the station. He had been a member of this establishment since his underground days. It was run by a cynical Jew called Blaunberg, who had come originally from Poland. He had so completely imbibed English ideas that he had sent his son to a public school. He and Dollimore had both boxed for their schools and had met in the ring. They had met again in London one Boat-race night and Blaunberg had taken Dollimore to the club in the East End which, among other undertakings, his father ran. There was not, and never had been, anything of the snob in Dollimore and he and young Blaunberg, with Dollimore at least, had made no secret of his humble origin.

Dollimore had been made a member, the whole thing, superficially at least, was quite legal, and from time to time Dollimore still visited it. The elder Blaunberg had retired, and the younger Blaunberg reigned in his stead.

Usually, there was an amusing cabaret show at the club and Blaunberg always saw to it that his friend was provided with an excellent meal. Blaunberg, alone in the club, knew what his friend was; Dollimore's position, as a pal of the governor, was unassailable.

Blaunberg was delighted to see his friend: "My dear Dolly! But how nice of you! Come right in!"

For a while they watched the show, which, for those who liked that kind of thing, his its points. The champagne that Blaunberg insisted on ordering was impeccable, the sole perfectly cooked, and the woodcock excellent.

"You're a curious chap, Blaunberg, and this is a curious place," Dollimore said.

Blaunberg smiled: "And we're not doing too badly, my boy! Sure there's nothing else you'd like?"

"Sure," said Dollimore. "Then come into the office and tell me what it is you want."

Czechoslovak Man, Fiancee Meet On Niagara Steamer

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Two youthful lovers, snarled in immigration red tape, met again today in the mist of Niagara Falls, traditional honeymoon spot.

Another tryst aboard a sight-seeing vessel at the foot of the Horseshoe Falls was kept by the Czechoslovakian couple, compelled by immigration laws to meet on the boundary between Canada and the United States.

Dennis Chrastansky, 24, and his sweetheart, Kitty Kleiner, rode back and forth across the swirling Niagara River for an hour Friday aboard the steamer Maid of the Mist. They repeated the experience today.

Wrapped in the oilskins and sou'westers which passengers are given as protection against the spray of the falls, the lovers talked of their long separation and of their uncertain plans for the future.

As a displaced person, Chrastansky, in Ontario for the last five months, cannot enter the United States. Miss Kleiner went to the United States as a student in 1946 but lost that status when she applied for permanent residence papers. She was warned that if she left the United States pending readjustment of her status she might not be re-admitted.

The Maid of the Mist picks up passengers on both the Canadian and U.S. sides of the river for the cruise up to the falls.

The couple last June met at the middle of the Rainbow Bridge over the river. Then Miss Kleiner returned to North Carolina and Chrastansky to the Toronto area, where he has found a farm job.

Indication Of End Of Summer Seen In Perfect Crib Hands

A sure sign of summer's end is when cribbage players in the city start counting out their "fifteen-two, fifteen-four" with renewed vigor and at more frequent intervals than during the summer months.

Within the last few days, proof of increased activity in the pegging pastime has been presented in the form of two reports of "perfect 29" hands.

Sid Foster of Five Points store in Fairfield was dealt three fives and the jack of clubs, then had the five of clubs turned up in the cut. He was playing with Arthur Burgess, 926 Richmond Road.

"It is the first time I've ever had a 29-hand in 10 solid years of playing," was Sid's comment.

LIKE HOLE IN ONE

The other citizen to be dealt the rare cribbage hand described the feeling he got as "like getting a hole in one in golf."

He was D. A. Macdonald, 600 Harbinger Avenue, city comptroller, and he should know what he is talking about, for many years ago, he admits, he did get a hole in one. Like Mr. Foster, Mr. Macdonald's perfect hand was the first the recipient had seen.

The comptroller was dealt the five of diamonds, hearts and clubs and the jack of spades. The five of spades came up in the cut. He was playing with a friend, L. C. Stapleton.

Pioneer Students To Open New Wing Of Metchosin School Friday

METCHOSIN—This district plans to celebrate the opening of the newly-completed wing to their school by an old-time bazaar to be sponsored by the Metchosin Branch of the P.T.A. Friday night at 7:30, in the school.

Cook books and prized recipes are being dusted off; livestock and pets are being offered from goats to goldfish. Needles are busy, candy pans steaming and succulent fruits and vegetables being surveyed for the big event.

Judge W. E. Fisher and his sister, Mrs. Emily Stephenson, both pioneer students of the little red school house recently building for some time.

The new school wing, following the "swords to ploughshares" pattern, was converted by Sooke District School Board No. 62, from an army building to fill the educational requirements for the growing community. The wing, embodying many modern improvements is attached to Metchosin School, which was opened by Mrs. Fisher in 1914.

Plans are being made to preserve the old school house, now at the rear of the present school, as an historical building.

Cougars Play Rockets At Nanaimo Wednesday

Anxious to get an early look at the Victoria Cougars in action under game conditions, Coach Eddie Wares today announced that he will take his club to Nanaimo on Wednesday night of this week for an extra exhibition game against the Tacoma Rockets prior to taking on Muzz Patrick's sextet on the Memorial Arena ice here on Thursday night at 8:30.

Originally scheduled to play only one exhibition tussle against the Rockets here Thursday, Wares agreed to the earlier meeting to give him a more definite line on the Cougars before they make their home debut. And Muzz Patrick, whose Rockets scored 7 to 4, and 14 to 0 victories over the Nanaimo Cougars on last Friday and Saturday nights, wants to keep his Tacoma club busy.

Still awaiting the arrival of defenseman Tom Rockey and left wing Eddie Mazur, assigned to Victoria by Montreal Canadiens, Wares went to work in Sunday's drill by trying out some front and back-line combinations in preparation for the exhibition games.

Wares worked with Flori Goegan (pronounced Go-E-Gan) while Eddie Marineau teamed up with Bud James and the two local amateurs, Don Gillespie and Phil Andrejkw, worked as a pair. Marineau and Rockey are likely to be teamed up in one combination when the latter appears, since they were backline mates on the Dallas club of the U.S. League last season.

COMBINATIONS SET
One front-line combination

Sunday was made up of Bernie Strongman at centre, Georges Bougie at right wing and Larry Thibeault at left wing. Another had Ken Gunter at centre, Roy McKay at right wing and Allan Senior on the left lane, while the third had Allen Smith at the pivot and Joe Evans and Con McBeth on the wings.

Wares plans to invite several of the local amateurs to take part in the Nanaimo exhibition, depending on their showing in practices today and Tuesday and on the arrival of Rockey and Mazur. They are expected not later than Wednesday and probably will make the trip to Nanaimo.

Owner Lester Patrick was hopeful that he would get word from Canadiens today on the assignment of three more players to the Cougars. Their arrival is expected to give the Cougars a full complement of players likely to hold their own in P.C.H.L. competition.

Navy Takes Over Lead In Senior Soccer Loop

The Navy eleven took over sole possession of the Victoria and District Soccer League leadership by turning back Duncan Native Sons, 5 to 3, for their second straight victory on Saturday afternoon.

Esquimalt and Canadian Legion, who both had a chance to move into a tie with the sailors on Sunday, played to a 4 to 4 deadlock to leave the Tars out in front of the pack by a single point. Other games over the week-end saw the youthful Heaneys edge Wests, 2 to 1, in a thriller Sunday, and Oak Bay trounce Alcos, 7 to 0, Saturday.

The Esquimalt-Legion tussle saw plenty of scoring in the first half and especially in the early minutes of the session. Shortly after the opening whistle, left-winger Jim Davison opened the scoring for the vets and a few minutes later he snapped up Cliff Robbins' cross to make it 2 to 0.

PENALTY GOALS

Doc Hayward sliced the lead, converting a gift kick to put the dockyarders back in contention, and a few minutes later Esquimalt tied the score on a gift goal when centre-forward Johnny Christenson's slow roller was fumbled by Legion goalie Ed Hardy. Shortly before the first half terminated, they went out in front, 3 to 2, when Hayward blasted home a second penalty shot.

Legion made a great bid to tie it up at the three-minute mark of the second half when Den McGee labeled one at goalie Charlie Saddler from point-blank range and Davison picked up the rebound, but Saddler made two brilliant stops. Play returned to the other end, and right-inside Don Robinson made it 4 to 2 for Esquimalt on a pretty effort from outside the penalty area.

At the 18-minute mark, McGee sliced the lead again when his drive from the left wing deflected into the net off an Esquimalt defender. Finally, at the 32-minute mark, Tom Fallon scored the tying marker for Legion when his long shot picked off the top left corner.

Heaneys' spotted Wests an early one-goal lead in the second game Sunday, and then came back to tie the score shortly before the close of the first half and count the only tally in second-half play to walk off with the decision.

Right-winger Toad Atkinson opened the scoring for the green-shirts after taking Len Scott's forward pass. Play moved from end to end and it was not until five minutes before the half ended that young Dick Bell found the net with a high-drive over goalie Norm Richards' head to notch the score.

ROBB SCORES DECIDER

After 13 minutes of play in the second half, centre-forward Cedric Robb broke away from the centre line and raced all the way in on a solo for what proved to be the deciding marker.

Saturday's Duncan-Navy encounter saw centre-forward Vic Dovey make his debut this year with a four-goal performance for the Tars. Other Navy goal went to Don Martin, while Eugene Thorne with two and Francis Johnny were the goal-getters for the Native Sons. Losers were ahead 3 to 2 at the breather.

In the other game, the Alcos could not keep up with Oak Bay, who rain wild to score seven goals, while holding their opponents off the score sheet. Arnold Ferguson scored a trio, Aln Thompson added two more and Frank Greeley and Gordie Hobson scored the others.

MARBERRY HURT
MEXIA, Tex. (AP)—Fred (Frip) Marberry, who won fame as a major league relief pitcher, is in "good shape" today after losing his left arm in an automobile accident. Marberry's arm was severed above the elbow by the impact of the collision with another car.

Norm McConnell Wins Graphic Arts Golf

Norm McConnell captured the Norman F. Hall Trophy and the Graphic Arts golf championship yesterday at Colwood Golf Club with a net 66.

Ted Hart took runner-up honors with a net 67, and King's Printer Don McDiarmid finished third with a 68. Bob Morrison had low gross of 80.

Royals, Ironmen Play To Second Exhibition Tie

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—New Westminster Royals and Seattle Ironmen came up with their second tie game in as many starts here Saturday night as they played to a 4 to 4 draw.

Last Monday the teams had an identical score and once again it was Seattle who came from behind in the last minute of exhibition play to tie the game.

Ironmen led 2 to 1 at the end of the first. The teams were all tied up at 3 to 3 at the end of the second and each scored once in the final 20 minutes.

Cal Stearns led Seattle marksmen with two goals. George Senick had a goal and an assist and Pete Talifer got the other Ironman goal. Willie Schmidt had two assists and Jack McIntyre and Mundrick one each.

Bob Love was high scorer for Royals with two. Arny Dufault had a goal and assist as did Ollie Dorohoy. Ken Cook had two assists. Ken Ulyott and Babe Pratt one apiece.

The first period was only 45 seconds old when Stearns slapped in Schmidt's rebound for the first goal. He added another at the 13:11 mark. McIntyre and Schmidt getting assists. Love cut the margin when he scored the first of his goals on a pass from Ken Cook.

Royals outscored Seattle in the second period 2 to 1. Love notched one with assists going to Pratt and Cook and Dufault got the other. Ollie Dorohoy assisting. Senick scored the lone Seattle counter.

Dorohoy from Dufault and Ulyott accounted for Royals final tally. Senick passed to Talifer for Seattle's last counter.

Gorge Vale Juniors Keep Golf Buttons

The kids did it again. Bob Fleming and John Merrimoh of Gorge Vale Golf Club retained their city senior golf buttons Sunday with a 2 and 1 triumph over city champion Vic Painter and Bill McCall of Colwood.

Fleming had the best round of the foursome with a 70 and closed out the match with a birdie three on the 17th hole. Winners had best ball of 68, losers 70. The largest gallery to witness a button match in recent years followed the foursome.

Puts Cougars Through Paces

Playing coach Eddie Wares of the Cougars is a busy man these days as he puts the Cougars through practice drills at the Memorial Arena in preparation for the P.C.H.L. opener at New Westminster Saturday night at the Royal City. Wares will get first chance to see club in action Wednesday when team travels to Nanaimo to meet Muzz Patrick's Rockets in an exhibition tilt.

United Edge Reds For First Win; Druce Star

Two booging second-half goals by centre-forward Tommy Druce gave the Victoria United a thrilling 2 to 1 victory over the Dominion Champion North Shore Reds here Saturday afternoon in a Pacific Coast Soccer League encounter. The win, first of the season for United, moved them into a third-place tie with Vancouver City, who upset the highly-touted St. Andrews squad, 4 to 1, in Vancouver.

Loss as the first for both the Reds and St. Andrews, and leaves them at the top of the circuit with four points, while the United and Vancouver City are close behind with three points each. Third match played Saturday saw the New Westminster Royals notch their first win of the season by downing Nanaimo, 3 to 1.

Although getting away to a slow start and spotting North Shore a one-goal lead in the first half, United came back strong and matched the Dominion titlists in the territorial play throughout the tussle. Druce, who has already proved his worth at his new position, turned in a sterling performance for the locals, and narrowly missed scoring on three other occasions.

MCALLISTER IN FORM
In addition to Druce, goalie Bill McAllister, played a brilliant game in the net, while the United defence played good ball, continually bottling up North Shore forwards.

Stars Oust Solons; Padres, Acorns Tied

The pennant-winning Hollywood Stars are in for the finals of the Pacific Coast League's $35,000 Governor's Cup playoffs. The Stars clipped Sacramento, 2 to 1, last night to win four out of five games from the Solons. Willard Ramsdell, making his second start of the series, won over Solon Frankie Dasso in a pitching duel. Each gave up seven hits. The Solons got their lone tally on Jim Tabor's homer. Hollywood scored twice in the sixth on Irv Noren's single, Herb Gorman's double, a fielder's choice and a long fly ball.

Oakland and San Diego, meanwhile, split a Sunday twin bill to throw their best-of-seven playoff series into a seventh and deciding game tonight. The Padres took the opener, 10 to 1, behind the pitching of Al Jurisich. Al Rosen's three-run homer and three doubles by Harvey Storey topped the Padre's offence.

In a nightcap, Acorn Milo Candini notched his second win of the series in winning, 6 to 1. Dick Kryhoski homered in three runs and Jackie Jensen homered once and led in another run. Charlie Gassaway will take

Raschi Stops Bosox; Brooks Go 10 Innings

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—The big town was all excited about its first 10-cent world series today, but to the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers it all seemed a little anti-climactic.

They still were too battered, weary and worn out from their bruising pennant race triumphs to think about the series. But a little time—two days, in fact—will have cured all that when the umpires call play ball in Yankee Stadium at 1 p.m. E.S.T. Wednesday for the first game of the series.

The strain of history-making pennant fights will be forgotten by then and they will go out for some more of baseball's glory and gold. And the first New York overnight betting lines established the Yankees as a 6 to 5 favorite.

Neither manager Casey Stengel of the American League champion Yankees nor Burt Shotton, who led the dust-raising hooligans of Brooklyn to the National League flag, had had time to think about the series.

They still were patting their players on the back for coming through yesterday on the final day of the season to win out—the Yankees with a stirring 5 to 3 victory over the Boston Red Sox, and the Dodgers with a 10th inning 9 to 7 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Neither cared to discuss series pitching plans although Stengel said he would announce his starting pitcher after the Yankees workout at the Stadium this morning.

THREE YANKS READY

He will have three of his big four ready—Ed Lopat (15-10); Alie Reynolds (17-6), and Tommy Byrne (15-7), with the dope indicating that he probably would go with Lopat, a stocky southpaw. Only Vic Raschi (21-10), who hurled the Yankees to their thrilling victory yesterday, did not figure in Stengel's plans for Wednesday's starters.

As he did in 1947 when his Dodgers dropped the world series to the Yankees four games to three, Shotton indicated that he would not announce his starting pitchers until just before game time each day.

But the baseball experts were betting that he would send Preacher Roe, the skinny left-hander who won 15 games, most of them key ones, out to the mound in an effort to get the Dodgers off on the right foot.

That would leave the big negro ace, Don Newcombe, who couldn't hold a five-run lead against the Phillies yesterday, for the second game at the Stadium. Newcombe, who probably will be selected as the rookie of the year, won 17 games in the Brooklyn drive to the pennant.

Ralph Branca (13-5); Joe Hatton (12-8), and Rex Barney (9-8), were other probable Brooklyn starters when the series shifts to Ebbets Field on Friday for the third, fourth and fifth games. If sixth and seventh games are necessary they will be played at the Stadium on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

SCALPERS AT WORK

As usual, all tickets were sold and scalpers already were demanding premium prices. The Stadium figures to draw capacity crowds of around 70,000 for each game while Ebbets Field is expected to reach capacity of about 35,000.

Thus the players, who share only in the receipts of the first four games, did not figure to approach last year's record payoff when each member of the winning Cleveland Indians received $6,770 while the Boston Braves got $4,570 each.

Sentiment Favors Yankees

In establishing the Yankees as the series favorites, the early bookmakers appeared to be acting more on sentiment than on good baseball judgment. For man for man, the Dodgers appeared on paper to hold a decided edge, even though they cannot approach such old Yankee pros as Joe DiMaggio, Tommy Henrich, Phil Rizzuto and Joe Page, the relief ace.

But they have Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges, Roy Campanella, Carl Furillo, Duke Snider and others who give them the edge in both power and fielding finesse.

The two teams present strange contrasts. Dodgers are young, speedy and have power, but inexperience has cost them a lot of ball games. Their pitching staff, while young and strong is unpredictable. As in 1947, they still have the strongest throwing arms in the business, but they are about the wildest, too.

The Yankees, on the other hand, have steady pitching and with such old heads as DiMaggio, Henrich and Rizzuto around, they do not beat themselves. As a matter of fact, a lot of baseball people still claim the Red Sox were the better club. But there is on thing that no one can dispute and that is that baseball never has seen a gamer, more fighting crew than the 1949 Yankees who overcame obstacles almost daily that would have floored most teams for good.

As the old Yankees were saying in the dressing room yesterday, this 1949 team does no compare with the great Yankee teams in the past so far as ability is concerned, but there never has been a team which had the staying power and spirit of this club which had to make up in the old college try manner for its shortcomings in talent.

Dodgers Rate Better Club

In the statistical department, the Dodgers, too, hold an edge in almost every department. They led the majors in home runs with 151 against the Yankees 115. The Dodgers hit about 10 points higher in club batting with a mark of approximately .270 against New York's .260. In fielding averages, too, the Dodgers have a marked advantage.

It will be the third time in nine years the two clubs have met in the series, with the Yankees winning in five games in 1941 and then taking the seventh and deciding game in 1947.

The Yankees now have won the American League pennant 16 times, and the series 11 times. The Dodgers have won four pennants, but never a series.

Although it is their third meeting, it is their first 10-cent series. In the others the subway fare was only a nickel.

Stamps, Ottawa Stretch Winning Streaks; Break Attendance Mark

Six straight for Ottawa Roughriders; seven straight for Calgary Stampeders in the Western Union.

Those facts stood out in a football week-end that had a dash of everything, including a local attendance record at Ottawa of 16,424 fans as the Roughriders rolled over Toronto Argonauts 34 to 11.

The Stamps defeated Edmonton Eskimos 12 to 8 and Saskatchewan Roughriders trounced the luckless Winnipeg Blue Bombers 24 to 7.

3 TOUCHDOWNS

The Argos-Riders game at Ottawa was the only match in the Eastern Big Four, Howie (Touchdown) Turner took scoring honors with a three-touchdown spurge. Argos lost the services of Joe (King) Krol through injuries.

There was only one game in the Senior Ontario Union also, and that saw the Hamilton Tigers come from behind to defeat Windsor Rockets 20 to 6 at Hamilton, moving into a second-place tie with the Rockets.

In exhibition games, Toronto Varsity Blues, intercollegiate champions, swamped Toronto Beach of the O.R.F.U. 40 to 6 at Toronto, while Sarnia Imperiale of the O.R.F.U. beat Western Mustangs 20 to 11 at London, Ont.

At Regina the Roughriders scored one touchdown in the first quarter, two in the third and one in the fourth. The Blue Bombers scored their major in the first quarter. Pat Santucci converted all four of the Riders' majors.

The Roughriders started their victory march when Del Wardien grasped a 30-yard pass from Ben Charlton and raced over the line. Following a scoreless second quarter, the Riders moved into Winnipeg territory and kept up the pressure until Sammy Pierce, Roy Wright and Anthony registered touchdowns. Bud Korcheck got Winnipeg's touchdown.

At Edmonton the Grey Cup champion Stampeders came from behind an 8 to 6 deficit to stave off a powerful last quarter drive by the Eskimos after quarterback Keith Spith passed them into the lead.

A backfield fumble in the first quarter by halfback Harry Hobbs set up Paul Rowe for Stamps' first touchdown. But Esks' quarterback Bill Stukus went over for an unconverted major in the third session, and Pat West kicked a field goal in the fourth to put the third-place Edmonton club into the lead.

Two long flings by Spith to Woody Strode and Harry Hood put the Stamps in position for Rod Pantages' touchdown which Vern Graham converted.

Burrards Down Tigers To Capture Mann Cup

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—The Mann Cup returned Saturday night to western Canada as Vancouver Burrards defeated Hamilton Tigers 12 to 6 to win the best-of-five Canadian senior lacrosse championship three games to one.

The Tigers' failure to retain the title which they won last year upheld a nine-year-old jinx on eastern boxla squads. The last eastern team to win the trophy in the west was St. Catharines in 1941.

Youth and speed paid off for Burrards as they jumped into a second-quarter lead.

First-quarter play favored the lighter Vancouver squad but a penalty to Jack Byford enabled Tigers to take a two-goal lead with scores by Russ Black and Eddie Powers.

Burrards opened their scoring on Earl McDonald's counter early in the second stanza. And while Merv McKenzie scored a goal soon after, Burrards quickly recovered with three goals in six minutes through Smith, Byford and Leatherbarrow.

CAVALLIN STARS

Burrard pivot Roy Cavallin spearheaded continuous pressure on the Hamilton net and goalie Doug Favelle was called on to make a succession of sensational saves.

Vancouver held a 7 to 5 edge at the end of the third quarter despite desperate attempts by Blain McDonald and Tommy Love to reduce the Vancouver lead.

Burrards proved better in the clutch and speeded up their play in the final session.

The rapidly-tiring Yellow-jackets saw their chances of saving the game disappear as quick goals by Byford and Cavallin gave the westerners a 9 to 5 lead.

Two further goals by Bill Harris and Smith within the final five minutes provided Burrards with a healthy 12 to 5 edge before Love's lone goal for Hamilton closed the scoring.

MATHESON WINS MEDAL

Burrard forward Don Matheson—who notched a singleton in the third—was awarded the Mike Kelly medal. He was voted the most valuable player in the 1949 Mann Cup series.

Hamilton goaltender Doug Favelle won the award in last year's series with New Westminster Adanacs.

CARPET BOWLING

Moun' Toimie C.C.F. Carpet Bowling Club will hold a meeting on Tuesday night at the C.C.F. Hall, Mount Toimie, at 7:30. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Wrestling At Arena On Thursday Nights

Thursday night will be "Wrestling Night" at the Memorial Arena. It was announced today by promoter Rocky Brooks.

The first bout of the season will be held on Oct. 13, and although arrangements for the matches have not yet been completed, Brooks hopes to present one of the popular tag-team bouts. He is also negotiating to pair together Jack Kiser and Tony Ross.

Brooks said the ring would be placed on the ice. New ring will have steel cables instead of the old rope supports.

Oak Bay Wanderers Trounce J.B.A.A. In Benefit Rugby

Oak Bay Wanderers opened the 1949-50 English rugby season here Saturday on the right side of the ledger by trouncing J.B.A.A. 20 to 8 in an exhibition match with all proceeds going to the injured players' fund.

Wanderers held a definite edge in the territorial play, but were held from making the affair a complete runaway by a stubborn James Bay defence. After 20 minutes of play, Bob Pullen put losers out in front when he converted a 45-yard dash into the opening try.

Oak Bay made short work of tying the score, however, and Irv Young climaxed a brilliant three-quarter run to plant the ball over the line near the flag. Bill Skillings booted a penalty kick from 25 yards to give Oak Bay a 6 to 3 lead and they made it 9 to 3 just before the breather following a punt and dribbling combination.

James Bay fought back and made it a game again when Jimmy Holmes raced 10 yards to score and Albie Williams booted for the extra points to make the score 9 to 8. "Tries by Jack Rowe, Young and Jack Utting together with a convert by Skillings, gave Oak Bay its 12 point victory.

In a practice match on the lower field at Macdonald Park, Victoria College Whites upset the Blues, 8 to 5.

'Y' Swim Classes Postponed One Week

Owing to an unavoidable delay in the alterations to the Y.M.C.A. swimming pool, all classes for beginners have been postponed for one week, it was announced today by Archie McKinnon.

The new date for the opening of the classes is Oct. 10.

Netminding Main Bruin Problem; Veterans Rounding Into Shape

Manager Buck Boucher of Boston Bruins makes no bones about what he expects from his National Hockey League team. As he puts veterans and rookies of the Bruins and farm team Hershey Bears through their paces at Hershey, Pa., Boucher keeps saying:

"I want a two-flated team, one that comes up fighting all the time."

The Bruins appear from day to day to be concentrating upon their defence. Visitors to the camp report that last year's veterans look in the best possible shape and, of the 17 rookies, every man appears to have future major-league possibilities.

However, right now the Bruins appear weak in the nets. John Gilmour, McGill University star, appears to have plenty of class and so does Lorne Chabot. But both are young and so far do not measure up to the big time.

STEP UP PACE

Smarting under a 5 to 3 drubbing handed them Saturday night by the Bears with Boston manager Art Ross looking on, the Bruins plan to step up their training grind this week.

The question of who will replace Baz Bastien as goalie for Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League was answered during the week-end. Gil Mayer, happy little French-Canadian who looks more like a jockey than a netminder, was hired to fill the spot previously held by the star goal-keeper who lost his right eye during the opening minutes of the Hornets' first fall practice.

Mayer was in the nets for Toronto Maple Leafs during an exhibition game Saturday night between Leafs and Bisons at St. Catharines, Ont. His speedy work around the net helped Leafs to edge the Bisons 2 to 1 in a hard-checking encounter.

RANGERS BEATEN

At Lake Placid, N.Y., Saturday New Haven Ramblers of the A.H.L. trounced their parent New York Rangers of the N.H.L. 4 to 1. The game was the second of their series, New York having won the opener Wednesday.

Vern Bruce Takes 60-Lap Final Race At Langford Oval

The Langford Speedway major car racing season ended Saturday night with a bang-up 60-lap contest which saw Vern Bruce crowned king in Jack Smith's rear-engined No. 36 chariot.

It was a good finale for 2,500-odd customers who braved the chill breeze to see drivers from the B.C. Automotive Sports Association strut their stuff.

The boys took down a fair amount of board fencing for Promoter Bruce Passmore to replace before the 1950 program gets under way next spring.

No one was hurt, though. A spectacular crash on the 22nd lap of the feature event involved Dave Cooper in No. 3 and George Hutchinson in No. 10. They tangled on the south turn and wound up on the outside.

Finishing second to Bruce in the main event was another Victoria driver, Bob Simpson, who was at the controls of the No. 4 wagon. Don Olds of Seattle in No. 12 was third and Eddie Kostenuk, Victoria, in No. 22 fourth.

Harold Brown was sitting pretty in No. 54 ahead of Kostenuk until the 53rd lap. It was the south turn which was his undoing. The 54 spun and Brown lost his position.

Jack Spaulding's No. 1 car broke an axle, but managed to finish the 60-lap race. Corky Thomas' "Lucky Lady" acted up too, but finished the contest.

Greenkeepers' Golf Scheduled Tomorrow

The greenkeepers' 15th annual golf tournament will be held tomorrow morning at the Gorge Vale Golf Club.

Trophies at stake include the Young Trophy for the greenkeepers' championship, won last year by W. Unwin; the handicapped championship J. A. Sayward Cup, captured last year by B. Beggs, and the interclub shield. A putting competition will also be held during the day.

A banquet will be held at Loughheed's Banquet Hall, commencing at 7:30 in the evening. Draw and starting times follow:

10—H. Beggs, D. Lowe, A. C. Smith.
11—A. Tuzar, W. Unwin, R. Young.
12—C. Carriage, G. Chambers, A. Rankin.
13—L. Kennedy, A. W. Riddett, T. Thorpe.
14—D. Farnum, T. Gordon, C. Smith.
15—P. Bicknell, R. Gordon, A. Loughran.
16—R. Allan, W. Dainard, J. Mathias.

Six Additional Cage Teams File Entries

Six late entries Saturday brought the total number of teams accepted for play in the 1949-50 Victoria and District Basketball Association up to 39, league officials announced today.

Senior B men's division heads the list with a total of nine entries, while the intermediate A men is next heaviest with six.

Teams representing last year's members of the senior A Y.M.C.A. squad sent in a late entry, but the squad is unnamed at present.

List of late entries follow:

Senior A men—Ex-Y.M.C.A.
Senior B men—Bryntwood Aces, Victoria Confection.
Intermediate B boys—Y.M.C.A.
Junior boys—Tillicums, Vampires.
Midget boys—Y.M.C.A.
League officials have acquired the use of the gym at H.M.C. Naden this year.

The handshake Walt Rayson will never forget

PERHAPS it was chance that led Walt Rayson, while driving through a college town, to stop at a certain restaurant.

As he gave his order, he glanced at the waiter. The face looked familiar. Suddenly Walt remembered—the young man was the son of an old friend.

After finishing his meal, Walt introduced himself. "You wouldn't remember me, Bill," he said, "but I knew your father. It's quite a surprise finding you here."

"That's easily explained, sir," said Bill. "I'm working my way through college. You see, when father died last year he left enough life insurance to support mother and pay part of my expenses, too. That, plus what I earn here, has made it possible for me to stay at university."

"That makes me feel mighty good," said Walt, "because I'm the man who sold your father that life insurance."

"Gee!" said Bill, "you'll never know what that money has meant to Mom and me. And I guess you're the one I ought to thank for it. So... so thanks!" he said, shaking Walt's hand warmly.

"Oh, it was just part of a day's job," smiled Walt, rising. "Well, good-bye and good luck!"

Later, as he drove into the night, Walt's glow of satisfaction deepened when he recalled how hard it had been to persuade Bill's father to increase and properly plan his life insurance to cover the emergency that, years later, Bill and his mother had to face.

"Well," said Walt to himself, "there must be thousands of cases like this where life insurance representatives have helped to save the day!"

Art Course Opening To Complete Night Classes At College

Except for one course which starts Wednesday, Victoria College's Evening Division is in full swing with university credit courses as well as non-credit lectures.

The course to open Wednesday in the non-credit category is W. P. Weston's "Approach to Art." It is expected to attract between 25 and 30 "students." Lectures will be given every Wednesday evening at the College starting at 8. Course will last 10 weeks.

Mr. Weston, former Vancouver Normal School instructor in art, will cover art appreciation, general principles of design as related to architecture, sculpture and painting, the history of Canadian painting, methods of reproduction, contemporary art and the machine and art.

The registrations for the art course, which will be accepted at the door Wednesday, are expected to boost the Evening Division enrollment to 250. Of the total some 50 men and women are taking university credit courses in mathematics, psychology and philosophy.

'49 Chest Drive Gets Under Way

Band of the Victoria aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, swings up Douglas Street, followed by smartly uniformed Eagles' Girls' Drill Team in street parade through city's downtown business section, marking opening of 1949 Red Feather campaign. Parade included 49 entries, including service representatives, eight bands and displays of the Community Chest's 20 dependent agencies.

Motorcyclist Badly Injured

Internal injuries were suffered by Hayward I. Cunningham, 23, of 929 Island Road, when the motorcycle he was riding Saturday afternoon collided with a car on the Johnson Street Extension at Ilahie Street.

His condition was reported as satisfactory at the Jubilee Hospital today. He suffered no fractures.

Police said the car was driven by Henry Bonkowski, 1136 Caledonia Avenue. The report made out by officers attending the scene said that Cunningham "had apparently been going too fast to make a turn and swung over on the wrong side of the middle line and crashed into the front of the auto proceeding west on Johnson."

Damage to the car's front was estimated at $300, about $75 damage to the motorcycle.

A smoke scare sent city firemen rushing to the Waverly Block, between Johnson and Pandora on Douglas Street, at 7.39 this morning. Firemen found some smoldering rags to be the source of trouble. There was no damage.

B.C. Couple Injured In Montana Crash Flown To Victoria

Seriously injured a short time ago in Montana, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. O'Dell, Trail, are in Jubilee Hospital after a flight here in a chartered plane. They are the parents of Mrs. B. Howard Parsons, 951 Bank Street, a nurse.

Mrs. Parsons has been with her parents nursing them in the Montana hospital. The injured couple were brought to hospital from Victoria's Pat Bay airport by ambulance.

According to reports received on the Montana accident, both front wheels of the 1949 model car the O'Dells were riding in suddenly came off and a bad crash resulted. The car was classed as a total wreck and Mr. and Mrs. O'Dell suffered serious injuries. They are both aged in the early 50's.

Light Accident Toll At Week-end

The week-end was fairly free of motor accidents, police of the Greater Victoria area reported today. The few accidents which did occur took place in the city.

Most spectacular was the Saturday afternoon crash at Linden and Richardson between cars driven by Aldo Vickery, 2490 Foul Bay Road, and Harry H. Poole, 1498 Fairfield Road. The Poole car was overturned by the force of collision.

According to police, Vickery was driving south on Linden, and Poole, east on Richardson when the accident occurred.

Later Saturday afternoon, cars driven by Hayward I. Cunningham, 929 Island Road, and Henry Bonkowski, 1136 Caledonia Avenue, crashed on Johnson Street, west of the bridge.

Cunningham was driving east on Johnson, while Bonkowski was proceeding west. Damage to the latter's car was estimated at $300, while damage to Cunningham's was about $75.

Also Saturday afternoon, cars driven by Robert Girth, 58 South Turner Street, and Joseph E. Blais, Nanaimo, collided at Wharf and Yates Streets. Blais and Mrs. Elsie Peterson, 1319 Vancouver Street, a passenger in the car, were taken to Jubilee Hospital to be treated for facial cuts and shock, but were later released.

Travels 6,000 Miles To Get Unique Photographic Record Of B.C. Northland

After traveling approximately 6,000 miles over the highways and by-ways of Northern British Columbia, Clarence R. D. Ferris, provincial government photographer, has returned to Victoria with one of the finest photographic records of the B.C. portion of the Alaska Highway and the Peace River Block.

The Department of Trade and Industry, lacking a visual record of British Columbia's northern frontier, sent Mr. Ferris to photograph the area this summer.

Mr. Ferris traveled for two months in a van loaded with a battery of still and movie cameras and accessories. He made a colored movie of the 620-mile portion of the Alaska Highway and the Peace River district, and took over 500 still photographs of the industrial, agricultural and scenic aspects of the area.

Mr. Ferris said he was impressed with the vastness of the Peace River district and its potentialities as an agricultural district.

"While the wheat does not seem to grow as high as in the prairies, the heads are heavy and contain about 40 to 50 grains," he said. "I was told that an acre will yield between 40 and 43 bushels of wheat."

He said the land was comparable to that found in the prairie regions and anywhere in British Columbia.

PEACE RIVER COAL

With his camera, Mr. Ferris also explored the coal mines in the Peace River district. The shafts were between 5½ to 8 feet in height he said, thus enabling a miner to work in a standing position instead of having to crawl on his stomach as in other mines.

He also drove down to the MacKenzie Canyon, named after the famous explorer. Along the banks of the 22-mile long canyon he saw seams of coal. Coal mines have been established here.

While agriculture had displaced hunting and trapping in the Peace River district, Mr. Ferris said back of the area

B.C. portion of Alaska Highway starts from Mile 0.0 at Dawson Creek and enters the Yukon at Mile 620. The section shown here is at Mile 144.

A view of the highway at Mile 467.4. A large portion of the road winds up and down rolling hills and through muskeg flats. Part of it cuts through the Rocky Mountains. The highway is in good condition and is kept open for traffic throughout the year.

there was plenty of heavy game and good fishing.

With regard to his trip over the Alaska Highway, Mr. Ferris said he found traveling a bit tiresome because of the dust on the road.

HIGHWAY IN GOOD SHAPE

"But the highway is in good condition," he said. "It is a 50-mile-an-hour highway."

Mr. Ferris had nothing but praise for the engineers who built the Alaska Highway. "Large portions of the highway are built over muskeg flats, which are always moving," he said.

Despite this, the road is holding out."

He said the Department of National Defence had maintenance crews working all the time on the highway in order to keep it in good condition.

While Mr. Ferris' new colored movie of the highway starts from Pouce Coupe in Alberta, the actual starting point of the highway is at Dawson Creek. He found Dawson Creek becoming a place of substantial consequence with good hotels, stores and restaurants.

Gasoline prices increased as you approached the height of land, he said. The price of gasoline was 65 cents a gallon at Summit Lake, which is about 4,120 feet above sea level.

He explained this was due to the cost of transporting gasoline.

At Fort St. John, Mr. Ferris said there was an excellent airport. Here private and commercial planes stopped to have engines checked before proceeding northward. "Pilots are told to land on the highway if they get into trouble," said Mr. Ferris.

Mr. Ferris said he saw a large number of tourists traveling over the highway this summer, as well as trucks. He met quite a number of hunting parties. The photographer's 16-millimetre color motion picture ended at Lower Post, on the border of the Yukon.

"Duel In Sun" Is Powerful Photoplay

Long anticipated by the theatre-going public as one of the important film events of 1947, David O. Selznick's "Duel in the Sun" more than lived up to expectations in a multitude of ways as it made its debut at the Rio Theatre today. A dramatic technicolor saga of the Texas Panhandle during the 1880s, "Duel in the Sun" is a Selznick International Picture released through the Selznick Releasing Organization.

"Duel in the Sun" has a terrific impact. It is a tremendously exciting photoplay. Selznick personally wrote the screenplay of "Duel" from an adaptation by Oliver H. P. Garrett as suggested by a novel by Niven Busch.

1906 'Flicker' Race Seen In 'Dan Patch'

An unknown cameraman who hand-cranked the most exciting racetrack footage ever photographed in 1906, is being hailed by Hollywood cameramen, whose technique has awed the world, as the greatest master of them all.

The sequence shot by this wizard of the camera, from a platform built on a Stanley Steamer, has been used to show present-day movie audiences that spine-tingling event in W. H. Frank's romantic and exciting film, "The Great Dan Patch," currently at the Odeon Theatre, and starring Dennis O'Keefe and Gail Russell.

Efforts to find the unknown cameraman who shot the footage depicting Dan Patch, the greatest pacer ever foaled, doing a mile in 1:55 to establish a record that has never been broken by pacers since that time, have completely failed.

Lou Gehrig Story On Atlas Screen

An inspiration to Americans everywhere and a great dramatic real-life story is welcomed back on the screen, in "The Pride of the Yankees," which is now at the Atlas Theatre. This Samuel Goldwyn production is told against a background of big-league baseball. In it Gary Cooper stars as Lou Gehrig.

The national game is merely the canvas across which Director Sam Wood has painted his vivid, memorable tale of the late famous and beloved Lou Gehrig, diamond star. In the compelling story of the janitor's son who rose to become one of the most popular figures in modern sport.

Bridge

PSYCHIC BID OPENS
CONFUSING HAND

In my contacts with bridge I meet a great many interesting people, and I like to ask them questions about themselves and their business. I found Cmdr. Mortimer W. Loewi, director of the DuMont Television Network, exceptionally interesting. I wanted to know how long it would be before television reaches smaller cities. The commander told me that this problem will be solved within the next few years with the coaxial cable and micro-wave relays.

He has played a lot of bridge, and we discussed many of the old-timers. He gave me a very good reason for the increasing popularity of bridge. "With television," he said, "people are staying home now, and the natural thing for them to do is to have some friends in and play bridge." The commander left a nice thought with me which I want to pass on to you. He said that with a psychic bid of one no trump. North and South got to a six heart contract. When East opened with the seven of spades the ten was played from dummy, Jack by West and North won with the queen. Later when declarer led the three of spades from dummy West made the mistake of playing the four spot. Declarer reading East for a singleton played the six spot. A club trick was conceded and the contract was made.

Several pairs tried to play the hand at six no trump, which was defeated. Six clubs is the only slam contract that cannot be defeated.

Umpires Named

CINCINNATI (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler has announced the umpires who will work in the world's series.

They are:

Hold Crusade Rally At Nanaimo Tonight

NANAIMO—The Civic Arena will be the setting tonight for the family rosary crusade rally, with arrangements made to seat 4,000 people.

Four hundred cars from Vancouver Island parishes will reach the outskirts of Nanaimo tonight and parade through the city to the arena for the opening at 8.

Following the "Living Rosary," a tableau of Fatima will be given and St. Ann's Convent Choir, Nanaimo, under direction of Sister Josephine Marie and Miss June Brogolis will render several numbers.

Presiding at the rally will be Most Rev. William Mark Duke, Archbishop of Vancouver, who will address the meeting. John Hart, former premier of the province and diocesan layman, and Father Patrick Peyton, founder of the crusade, will also speak.

The wonderful co-operation "from all sides" was lauded by Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. G. Baker, who said: "Believing as we do, that a return to family prayer is the only key to a lasting peace, we urge everyone to join with us in a consistent and persevering effort to realize our motto, 'The Family That Prays Together Stays Together.'"

Lakeside Riding Club will hold a meeting at the Thetis Lake Tea Rooms tonight at 7:30. All members are asked to attend, as plans for the fall season will be discussed.

Johnson Does Not Intend To Offer Railway To U.S.

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's Coalition government does not intend to offer the Pacific Great Eastern Railway for sale to the United States government.

Premier Byron Johnson said in an interview here the railway has a great future under B.C. ownership. When the extension from Quesnel to Prince George is completed, he said, it will start paying its own way.

Premier Johnson said he is prepared to visit Washington next week to discuss with U.S. government officials—possibly President Truman—any possible plans for co-operation on the railway between the two governments.

His proposed visit to the U.S. capital was suggested in the U.S. Senate by Senator Warren Magnuson of Washington State. Mr. Johnson is on his way to Ottawa.

Flood Waters Sweep District Of Naples

Robinson Captures N.L. Batting Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson, 29-year-old spark plug and second baseman of champion Brooklyn Dodgers, is the National League's unofficial batting king of 1949.

Robinson, in his third season of major-league company, wound up the torrid pennant race with a smart .342, three points higher than defending champion Stan Musial of the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals posted.

Dodger speedster pounded out 203 hits in 593 trips to the plate. Among his blows were 16 home runs, 12 triples and 38 doubles.

Staying With Sox, Joe McCarthy Says

BOSTON (AP)—Joe McCarthy dropped broad hints that he intends to stay as manager of the Red Sox.

Loyalty of the Boston fans touched McCarthy as more than 2,000 boaters greeted the beaten Sox on the team's return from New York last night.

As he looked over the friendly crowd, McCarthy remarked: "We never had a reception like this when I was with the Yankees and we were winners."

A sportswriter asked "How about next year, are you coming back?"

"If you want me back," replied Joe, "you write it."

McCarthy's two-year contract with the Red Sox expires this season.

But general manager Joe Cronin of the Sox has told reporters that McCarthy can stay as long as he wants to.

LONDON (Reuter)—Dundee United defeated Hamilton Academicals 4 to 1 today in a Scottish League, division B, soccer game.

Lewicki Threatened With Suspension If Leaf Terms Not Met

MONTREAL (CP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said today that if Danny Lewicki fails to meet the terms of his present agreement with Toronto Maple Leafs "he definitely will be suspended from both professional and amateur hockey."

Campbell was commenting on a report from Stratford, Ont., that Lewicki, promising junior ice star from F-Fort William, Ont., was demanding a Maple Leaf contract calling for $10,000 a year for two seasons plus a $2,500 bonus for signing.

The Leafs offered Lewicki $4,000 a season for two years plus $2,000 for signing.

"Lewicki already has signed an agreement with the Leafs and terms are continued in that agreement," the N.H.L. president told the Canadian Press. "That agreement is the N.H.L. form C which gives Leafs the right to negotiate for his services as a pro. Less than two months ago, Lewicki renewed his form C agreement with the Leafs."

Campbell said he had not, as yet, received any word on the latest developments on the case from either the Leafs or Lewicki. Earlier today, Conny Smythe, boss of the Leafs, said in Toronto that he had turned the case over to Campbell.

Miss Canada Four Just Under World Speedboat Record

PICTON, Ont. (CP)—Miss Canada IV set a North American speed boat record of 138.648 miles an hour Sunday and missed cracking the 100-year-old world mark of 141.7 m.p.h. by a whisker.

Driver Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont., had only to lop less than a second off the total time of 51.9 seconds over the two one-mile runs on Picton Bay to become the fastest water pilot in the world. The boat had it but Wilson "throttled her down" due to a red-hot engine.

"Miss Canada was so high over the water chops that the breather pipes weren't sucking in enough water to keep the engine cooled," he explained later. He had no way of knowing he was so close to climbing over the world record.

The previous North American titleholder was Such Crust, owned by Jack Shaeffer of Detroit, an easy winner over Miss Canada in the international Harmsworth races at Detroit this summer. Such Crust set the record, 126.6 miles an hour, over Gull Lake, Mich., in August.

'Scientist X'

Dr. Joseph W. Weinberg, University of Minnesota physics professor named by the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington as the "Scientist X" who allegedly gave atomic secrets to a Communist agent, denied the charge today. "I am not Scientist X and I have passed no atomic secrets to anyone," (NEA Telephoto)

Gandhi's Teachings May Save Assassins From Gallows Death

NEW DELHI (BUP)—The gentle teachings of the late Mahatma Gandhi may save his own assassins from death on the gallows.

There is strong feeling in India that their execution would contradict all the principles of the little man who taught that good should be returned for evil, and who regarded capital punishment as wicked.

Nobody seems to question the guilt of the killers. Naturnam Godse, a 37-year-old former tailor and newspaper editor, never denied firing the pistol shots that ended Gandhi's life at a New Delhi prayer meeting Jan. 30, 1948.

Narayan Apte, a 34-year-old schoolteacher, freely admitted his part in the plot.

During the long trial that ended with their conviction last February, Godse and Apte contended they had plotted and carried out the assassination "for the good of India."

Tug Goes To Aid Of Propellerless Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—A 10,000-ton U.S. tanker lost her propeller in the Atlantic about 400 miles east of Wilmington, N.C., and a tug has been dispatched to her aid from Baltimore, the U.S. Coast Guard reported today.

The tanker Clarke's Wharf, operated by the Trinidad Corporation of New York, was en route from Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, to Boston.

In addition to a tug sent from Baltimore, aid is available from the tanker Rock Landing, also operated by the Trinidad Corporation, which is in the same vicinity. The Rock Landing was ordered to stand by. Coast Guard vessels were ready to assist if needed.

Weather in the vicinity of the Clarke's Wharf was reported moderate.

Would Be Reply To Soviet Disclosure Of Making A-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—An all-out gamble for "enormous stakes"—the production of atomic power for air planes and submarines—may be a major U.S. Atomic Energy Commission answer to Russia's possession of the A-bomb, it was indicated today.

France's Foreign Minister Schuman Visiting Toronto

TORONTO (BUP)—French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman visited Toronto today while his British counterpart, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, spent the day meeting government officials in Ottawa.

Schuman, in Canada, on a three-day trip, arrived in Ottawa Saturday and went to Montreal where he addressed a meeting of the United Nations' Association.

The French diplomat is accompanied on his visit by Hubert Guerin, his country's newly-appointed ambassador to Canada. Schuman told the U.N. Association "my country does not consider the United Nations, the Atlantic Pact and the European Council as mere defence weapons."

Instead, he said, France's idea of an international body was an association where former victors and vanquished could "come together and unit their strength for a better world."

Without naming them, Schuman said certain western German political leaders "do not seem to have realized" that any member nation of an international alliance must show itself worthy of participating in the common effort.

Long Steel Strike To Affect Whole Of Canadian Industry

OTTAWA (CP)—The shadow of a United States steel strike hung darkly over Canadian industries today.

With Canada importing one-third of her steel from U.S. mills, a prolonged strike threatened to have repercussions in almost every aspect of the Dominion's industry.

Adding to the worry of government and industrial officials was uncertainty as to what form of support Canada's 50,000 steel workers might give their U.S. fellow union members.

Government officials indicated that if the strike of 528,000 United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) continues beyond another week or 10 days, it might be necessary to reinstitute wartime controls on distribution of steel.

Officials said there is enough steel on hand in Canada so that effects of the U.S. strike will not be felt in the Dominion for at least a week. If it were to continue, remaining supplies of steel would have to be channelled to such vital industries as construction and public utility development.

A.F.L. Starts Drive For Wage Increase

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today served notice of a new wage increase drive and bluntly said the A.F.L. has no intention of being bound by President Truman's steel fact-finding board no-pay-boost recommendation for American workers.

In a keynote address opening A.F.L.'s annual convention, Green said:

"We have never waived our right to demand wage increases for the workers of America. And we are not going to do it."

Lightning Struck Once

Jeweler B. E. Walzel of Houston, Texas, sincerely hopes the old adage that lightning never strikes twice in the same place is true. Because, the place where lightning struck once was Walzel's head. The bolt passed through his body, stripped a watch from his wrist—the shattered parts of which Walzel examines above—and came out his heel. His only injury was a slight burn on the heel.
